Price Tag For Arms To Atlantic Nations Surprises Senators

Security Program Starts With $1,130,000,000

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, April 22 (AP)—The $1,130,000,000 price tag on the first-year program for re-arming North Atlantic nations occasioned some surprise among senators today.

Several said privately they had expected more.

Secretary of State Acheson gave the estimate yesterday to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, concerned with the cost of bolstering Atlantic defenses.

However, Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson made it clear to senators this price is only a start on the program to strengthen nations which have joined in the North Atlantic Security Alliance.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Foreign Relations Committee said the pact and the military assistance program are "in the interest of peace" and are "purely defensive."

Hearings April 28

Connally announced that Acheson's plan calls for about $1,130,000,000 in the year beginning July 1 for the 11 nations joined with the United States in the pact.

In addition, it provides about $320,000,000 for military aid to Greece, Turkey and possibly other nations.

The actual estimated cash cost to the United States was not disclosed. Acheson told the committee he will have a break-down of the figures later, showing how much must be appropriated. He is expected to give more details when he testifies on the Atlantic treaty. Public hearings will start April 28.

Part of the $1,130,000,000 program for the pact nations includes equipment, surplus materials and raw materials.

Senator Smith (R-NJ) and other committee members came out of the hearing with the understanding that $400,000,000 of the $1,450,000,000 program already is provided for in President Truman's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

This would mean, Smith said, that $1,050,000,000 is the total amount outside the president's budget. Part of this aid must be provided in cash—part in equipment and materials.

Detroit Man Denied Refund On Gifts In Collapsed Romance

Detroit, April 22 (AP)—From her romance that hit the rocks Mrs. Dorothy Crocenzi, 24, will be keeping $1,552 in remembrances.

Common pleas Judge David C. Vokes yesterday ruled against Frank Rinaldi, 22, in a suit against Mrs. Crocenzi, a widow.

He decided she could keep Rinaldi's gifts, among them a $300 fur jacket, a $195 watch, furniture valued at $489, and $568 in cash.

When their marriage plans collapsed, Rinaldi sued Mrs. Crocenzi for $2100, which included advance expenses for a gala wedding. Judge Vokes dismissed the case.

Endurance Airmen Fight Off Fatigue At 900-Hour Mark

Fullerton, Calif., April 22 (AP)—The last 100 hours, record nonstop fliers Bill Barris and Dick Riedel say, are the hardest.

Fighting off fatigue, the co-pilots passed the 900-hour mark today.

Their goal is 1,008 hours. That would mean they could land at 11:44 a. m. next Tuesday. They cracked the old record of 726 hours last week.

Meanwhile, at Yuma, Ariz., two ex-combat fliers, Bud Woodhouse, 26, and Woodrow Jongward, took off yesterday in an attempt to better the Barris-Riedel venture. They plan to fly at 9,000 feet over Yuma.

Public Housing Bill Passes In Windy Session

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, April 22 (AP)—The long range housing bill landed in the House today after Senate approval at a stormy session.

The bill authorizing a vast slum clearance program and construction of 810,000 public housing units during the next six years was passed by the Senate a few minutes before last midnight. The vote was 57 to 13.

The measure also provides for a $275,000,000 farm housing program and for a research program designed to spur home construction by cutting building costs.

The fate of the bill in the House—which is in recess until Monday—is uncertain. Somewhat similar bills passed by the Senate last year and in 1946 died in the other branch of congress.

On final passage, 33 Democrats joined 24 Republicans in voting for the bill. Against it were two Democrats and 11 Republicans.

The major provisions of the Housing bill are these:

1. The federal government would contribute up to $308,000,000 annually for up to 40 years to help finance 810,000 public housing units which would be built in the next six years. The 810,000 figure is a compromise between the 1,050,000 Mr. Truman wanted in seven years, and the 600,000 a group of Republican senators wanted in six years.

The federal government's share of the cost is a minor part of the total. Most of it would be met from the rents collected, along with local community contributions. The housing units would be owned and operated by local communities.

2. A five-year slum clearance program, with two-thirds of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local communities. The bill authorizes $1,000,000,000 in federal loans and $5,000,000 in grants.

3. A three-part $275,000,000 farm housing program: 33-year loans at not more than four per cent interest, to be available to owners of self-sustaining farms who are otherwise unable to finance adequate housing; a similar loan program, along with annual federal contributions for up to 10 years to owners whose farms were not at the time self-sustaining but could be made so; loans and grants would be available for minor improvement and repair of dwellings on farms which could not be made self-sustaining.

Four-Day Donora Smog Test Ended; 90 Get Wheezes

Donora, Pa., April 22 (AP)—Residents of Donora and nearby Webster took a deep breath today—the government's four-day "smog test" was over.

As many as 90 persons reported physical discomfort in the form of coughing and wheezing during the experiment in which the U. S. public health service tried to duplicate industrial conditions existing when 2 died after a four-day smog last October.

After the tragedy last fall, the zinc plant of the American Steel & Wire Co. was closed down. The zinc plant was reopened during the four day test but closed down again last midnight when the experiment ended.

The test was made in an effort to prevent any further smog deaths.

Sales Tax Losses In Michigan Put At $20,000,000 a Year

Lansing, April 22 (AP) — The Senate sales tax investigating committee will base its recommendations for tax law changes on the assumption the state is losing more than $20,000,000 a year in sales taxes.

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), the chairman, told the Senate Thursday he estimated the state had lost more than $63,000,000 in the past three years. He based his estimate on a spot audit of 2,260 of the 113,000 retail merchants which showed the average tax deficiency was $566 per merchant.

"Before we start thinking about new taxes," Higgins said, "let's collect what we should be getting."

Avery Retains His Iron Grip On Wards

Chicago, April 22 (AP) — Sewell Avery kept his iron grip on Montgomery Ward and Company today.

Avery was assured of re-election as a director of the retail merchandising firm when nominations closed without anyone being put up in opposition to him. Actual counting of votes will take an hour or more.

Directors were scheduled to meet to elect a chairman later today. There was no doubt it would again be Avery. He is the only director who is active in the day-to-day management of the company.

Several hundred stockholders attended the meeting, which had aroused greater than normal interest because of wholesale top management resignations from the company. The largest holder of Ward's stock, Massachusetts Investors Trust, refused to vote for Avery.

Legislature Hopes To Adjourn May 20; Budget Bills Rushed

Lansing, April 22 (AP)—The legislature, despite some earlier doubts, apparently is determined to adjourn May 20.

Before the House for a vote today is a Senate-approved resolution calling for the end of the session on that date.

The House Ways and Means committee threw a block into leaders' plans for the adjournment Wednesday. They reported they doubted they could complete their budget bills in that time.

Yesterday, however, conferences with the Senate finance committee and behind-scenes pressure apparently changed the House committee members' minds.

Hard Coal Diggers End 3-Day Sitdown

Lansford, Pa., April 22 (AP) — Ten grimy, weary miners ended this morning their three-day underground sitdown strike that swelled to a walkout of 6,000 hard coal diggers.

The sitdowners had protested pay deductions made by the company because miners left their jobs before the scheduled end of the work day.

Red Shelling Costly For British Navy

Casualties 44 Dead And Estimated 82 Wounded

By JAMES FLOOD

Shanghai, April 22 (AP)—A sorely-stricken British sloop was fired on by Reds on the Yangtze again today in a renewal of clashes which have cost the British heavily in the past three days.

The sloop Amethyst, first to be attacked by Red gunners on the north bank Wednesday, messaged that it was under Red small arms fire when it moved 10 miles down the Yangtze today.

Nevertheless, the sloop advised the British naval attache's office, it was able to discharge 16 wounded. These wounded were placed aboard a train bound for Shanghai. The Amethyst presumably remained anchored near the south bank about 70 miles east of Nanking.

Plane Brings Doctor

Three other British men-of-war who tried to go to the Amethyst's relief lay at Shanghai wharves, crippled by Communist shell fire. All four had fired back on their attackers.

The death toll of the attack by Communist artillery on the four British warships was believed to be 44 an estimated 82 were injured but the toll may be higher. Communist casualties were not known.

The U. S. Naval hospital ship Repose arrived at Shanghai from the Western fleet base at Tsingtao and its facilities were turned over to the British.

An attempt to take off additional casualties from the Amethyst may be made by an RAF flying boat.

The flying boat managed to land near the Amethyst late Wednesday, put a doctor and medical supplies aboard, and flew back to Shanghai with one of the sloop's officers.

Motives In Detroit Boy Murder Studied

Backward Youth Admits Ash Heap Killing

Detroit, April 22 (AP) — Mental experts today studied the queer motives which led young Theodore Hilles to kill a little boy.

Hilles, 19, slow-witted and languid, confessed that he garroted and clubbed six-year-old George "Peanuts" Counter in a hotel furnace room yesterday.

Nine hours after the lad's nude and partly burned body was found on an ash heap state police seized Hilles on a hitch-hike flight 50 miles from Detroit.

A neighborhood "bad boy," called "backward" by acquaintances, Hilles gave a formal statement of the killing to Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien.

He will be charged with murder, O'Brien said. A psychiatric examination will follow.

The freckled-faced youth, addict of sensational comic books and movies, told police he went to a carnival and two movies after George's slaying.

At his arrest he muttered: "I'm sorry the kid is dead."

That was virtually his only display of emotion, police said, as he told of killing little George, factory worker's son.

George was one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. John Counter.

Hilles, small for his age, spent most of his time playing with little boys and teasing them, residents of his neighborhood said.

Traffic At Straits Gains 15 Per Cent Over Past Seasons

Lansing, April 22 (AP)—Traffic across the Straits of Mackinaw so far this year has shown an approximate 15 per cent increase over previous years, the state highway department reported today.

This is the third year the Straits traffic has shown the same increase.

The state ferries office at St. Ignace reported that 41,207 vehicles were carried across the straits through April 17 this year. This compares with 35,895 vehicles during the same period of 1948.

If the heavy traffic trend continues, the department said, a new record would be set for the year.

Yangtze Valley Ports Fall In Red Onslaught

White House Urges Congress Approval Of Health Insurance

Doctors Fight Plan Of Socialized Medicine

Washington, April 22 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress again today to vote compulsory medical insurance as part of a national health program.

In a special message to the legislators, Mr. Truman said the "traditional method" of paying for medical care "cannot meet the health needs of today."

He recommended that Congress provide for a system of government payment of medical bills from a fund to be collected by special taxes.

Mr. Truman also asked:

1. Government financial aid for the expansion of medical schools.

2. Federal aid for "construction of hospitals and other medical facilities in communities where they are needed."

3. Increased federal grants to help state and local governments in "controlling certain diseases" and promoting "maternal and child health services, help for crippled children and general public health activities."

Mr. Truman sent a 3,000-word message to Capitol Hill. His proposals had been anticipated and lines already were forming for a battle over the recommendations.

Some administration backers say they see practically no chance that the program will be enacted in this session of Congress.

The American Medical association has already begun a campaign against it. Labor organizations have accused the AMA of setting up a $3,500,000 fund to fight the program.

Headless Rooster Returns To Owner After Court Scrap

Los Angeles, April 22 (AP) — Lazarus, who has been running around for 20 days like the rooster he is with his head cut off, is back home.

"And he's going to live here until the Lord takes him," says Mrs. Martha Green, who won court rights to the bird yesterday.

Peace Justice Stanley Moffatt dismissed cruelty charges brought by the SPCA against Mrs. Green and a veterinarian, Dr. Alan Ross. He ruled that they had not violated the state code by keeping a mutilated bird.

Dr. Lawrence Minsky, pet hospital operator who had been given temporary custody of the bird, testified Lazarus was suffering and should be put out of misery.

But Mrs. Green, a Negro, told the court emotionally that "God had willed Lazarus live" and that the rooster had a healing effect on some of her friends. The judge decided to let nature take its course.

Food Costs Move Upward For Spring In Detroit Area

Detroit, April 22, (AP)—The cost of living is going up again in the Detroit area.

In recent months the Bureau of Labor Statistics has noted a slight downward trend. However, a 0.1 per cent rise was reported for the month ended March 15.

The BLS consumers' price index was 170.8 on March 15, compared with 170.7 a month earlier and 172.8 a year ago.

The figures mean the cost of living now is 170.8 per cent than the average cost of living in the years from 1935 to 1939.

Food bills for the average Detroit family rose 0.3 per cent in the month that ended March 15, the BLS reported, with meat up 2.2 per cent, poultry 4.8 per cent higher and 0.9 per cent added to the cost of cereals.

TRUCKERS PROTEST

Irwin, Pa., April 22 (AP)—An estimated 220 truck drivers are parked along the Pennsylvania Turnpike today in what they say is a protest against the failure of the state legislature to pass a bill increasing allowable load weights.

Iron Men Wanted For Cabinet Jobs

By JACK BELL

Washington, April 22 (AP)—An increasing turnover in President Truman's official family set him off on a search today for iron men willing to work for the government at comparatively low pay.

That's the kind of a fellow a government official has to be these days—an iron man with an elephant hide who can get by on a small salary— Mr. Truman told his news conference yesterday.

The resignations of Secretary of the Army Royall and Robert F. Bacher, atomic energy commissioner, led the president to expound again his theory that it's tough to get good men to take government jobs— and sometimes tougher to keep them.

The president announced the appointment of David K. E. Bruce to be ambassador to France, replacing Jefferson Caffery, who is coming home to an undesignated job.

It was the second diplomatic shift in as many days. Previously Adm. Alan G. Kirk was chosen to succeed Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith as ambassador at Moscow.

Mr. Truman said he didn't know who would take Bruce's spot as the European recovery mission chief in France. A little later, however, the economic corporation administration announced that Barry Bingham, Louisville publisher-editor, would take the job.

The president had no announcement to make on a successor for Royall in the army department post. In an exchange of letters, Royall said he was going back to civil life convinced the army is in "excellent condition" and "that war is not imminent."

The president's statement that he has no successor picked seemed to throw a bit of cold water on talk about Curtis Calder, Bronxville, N. Y., business man, as a possible appointee.

Mr. Truman said the army department can be run temporarily by one of Royall's assistants. That was something of a blow to friends of Gordon Gray, assistant secretary, who hoped he might have a chance for Royall's job.

One-Man Grand Jury System In Tatters

Sweeping Revision Bill Calls For 3 Judges

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Lansing, April 22 (AP)—Outright repeal of Michigan's one-man grand jury system was turned down by the House yesterday. But before the chamber got through with it, the system was in tatters.

Under a sweeping revision bill sent to the Senate, the one-man grand jury, created by a 1917 law, would be supplanted by three circuit judges sitting as a grand jury.

The power to grant immunity to a witness willing to turn informer on his former friends was stripped from grand juries. The state graft grand jury, the Ferguson grand jury into Detroit corruption and others had relied heavily on that power.

Other stringent limitations were placed around grand juries in an effort to correct widespread criticisms of abuse of the considerable powers they possessed.

The revision bill, which was voted on second, passed on an 85-7 vote.

King George Asked To Keep Princess From Meeting Pope

London, April 22 (AP)—Protestant leaders asked King Gorge today to see to it that Princess Margaret doesn't meet Pope Pius XII during her forthcoming tour of Italy.

The king's 18-year-old daughter leaves by special plane next Wednesday for a month's holiday in Italy. Dispatches from Rome to the British Press have said she might call on the Pope.

George, temporal head of the Church of England, was asked to intercede by the Protestant Truth Society, a Protestant propaganda agency representing most Protestant churches, and by the National Union of Protestants in Northern Ireland.

Buckingham Palace declined all comment.

Big Church Merger To Cover 1,900,000

Cleveland, April 22 (AP) — The General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church has given final approval to a merger with the Congregational Christian Churches.

The action makes possible creation, probably early in 1950, of a new United Church of Christ as the seventh largest Protestant denomination in this country.

The combined denominations have a membership of about 1,900,000.

Public Enemy No. 1 Wounded In Gunfight

Clyde Johnson Caught In Indianapolis By FBI

Indianapolis, April 22 (AP)—Clyde Milton Johnson, the FBI's public enemy No. 1, lay in critical condition at General hospital today with a bullet in his back.

Johnson was wounded in a running gun fight with three FBI agents on crowded Monument Circle last night.

FBI agent Harvey Foster said Johnson was charged with robbing the north side branch of the First National Bank at Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 3 and with escaping from the Dade county jail at Miami, Fla., March 1.

Foster said Johnson "is the man the FBI across the nation wanted more than any other man at this time."

Johnson's wife, Billie Glaze Johnson, 25, was arrested at a downtown hotel a few minutes after he was captured. She was charged with helping in the Miami escape and with being an accessory after the fact to the bank robbery.

The three FBI men tried to arrest Johnson as he walked out of the hotel on Washington street, the main downtown thoroughfare. He drew his gun, opened fire and sprinted up Meridan street to the circle, hub of the city's business district.

With bullets whistling past him, Johnson ran through a crowd waiting at a bus stop and leaped into a parked taxicab. As the cab started to pull away one of the FBI men leaped onto the rear and fire point-blank through the rear window.

Higher Workmen's Compensation Put In Law At Lansing

Lansing, April 22 (AP)—A Republican bill to increase workmen's compensation benefits and coverage was before the Senate today.

The bill would make workmen's compensation coverage mandatory for any employer with more than three or more workers. The minimum now is eight workers.

The sponsors proposed to increase the benefits $5 a week for industrial fatalities and $3 a week for total or partial disability.

That would mean $24 death benefits a week for a person with one dependent, running up to $30 for four dependants.

For disability cases, the bill would give $24 a week for a person with no dependents and would create a new dependency allotment scale ranging from $26 for one dependent to $34 a week for five or more dependents.

In addition, the bill would increase the present six month's period of free medical and hospital care for an injured worker to a maximum of 24 months.

Freight Train Kills Couple Near Albion

Albion, Mich., April 22 (AP) — A man and his wife returning from a party were killed early today when a freight train smashed into their truck and carried it for a quarter of a mile.

Instantly killed were Thurman Huff and his wife Maxine, both about 34.

The crash occurred at a New York Central grade crossing near the Starr Commonwealth school.

High Level Chinese Bolt For Planes To Flee From Nanking

Wholesale Desertions To Communists Indicated

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

Nanking, April 22 (AP)—South Yangtze valley ports, cities and towns fell like clay pigeons today before a mounting Red onslaught.

So weak was government opposition that wholesale desertions to the Communists were feared. Foreign military observers said a general troop withdrawal may have been ordered.

Nanking was fast emptying of officialdom. High level Chinese, wearing white helmets for the tropics and many swinging tennis rackets, bolted for departing planes.

Acting President Li Tsung-jen, Premier Ho Ying-chin and Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, commander of the central front, flew to Hangchow for an important meeting with retired President Chiang Kai-shek. Chiang may be asked to take over the government again.

Americans Warned

Most important cities below the Yangtze in Red hands were Kiangyin, 85 miles east of here, and Kweichih, 130 miles southwest.

From Kweichih the Communists could march straight to the sea at Hanghow, less than 200 miles away. Such a move would isolate Shanghai and Nanking to the north.

The foreign office urged foreign embassies to follow it to Shanghai or Canton. U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart had made no plans to leave Nanking.

With Communists to the east threatening to cut off all roads to Shanghai, the U. S. Embassy warned Americans to get out now. (The state department in Washington reported approximately 200 Americans were attached to the embassy. Eighty-seven more U. S. citizens still were in the capital).

Foreign military quarters said the Communists in a surprise river crossing had captured the government's naval base of Kiangyin. The base is about midway be-

Robeson Sings New Russian Song, Draws Boos In Stockholm

Stockholm, Sweden, April 21 (AP) —Paul Robeson's concert last night turned into a political row.

The trouble started when the noted American Negro baritone sang a new Russian anthem. The first verse, sung in Russian, was greeted quietly. However, when Robeson sang the second verse in English, which most of the audience understood, the crowd started a demonstration which for a time drowned out the singer.

"Anti - Communists whistled loudly (the Swedish equivalent of boos) and many left the hall in protest. Pro-Communists answered with loud cheers and frantic applause.

Following the anthem Robeson stepped to the microphone and told the audience he could no longer draw the line between his art and his political convictions. He said he wanted universal peace, but above all peace with the Soviet Union.

After the concert he said his political activity had increased lately. He said the reason was President Truman's Florida vacation during the Senate's Civil Right's filibuster.

Singer's Murder Unsolved

Atlanta, April 22 (AP) — Police were trying to learn today "what happened, where, when, and why, in the strange slaying of opera singer John Garris.

"We're doing everything possible," said Chief of Detectives E. I. Hildebrand, "but we have learned very little."

What loked like promising clues were fading out, 24 hours after the body of the 35-year-old Metropolitan opera tenor was found in a dreary alley, a bullet wound through his heart.

Hildebrand listed these angles on which detectives were working:

"Some" members of the Metropolitan opera group were questioned, without results. This led to the theory that Garris may have been shot in a private automobile, and his body dumped in the alley. Detectives said it would have taken a powerful man, or probably two, to have lifted the body of the 175 pound singer.

ALLEY PAVING IS APPROVED

Reynolds Is Named To Tourist Council

The Escanaba city council, in regular meeting last night, discussed the alley paving south of Ludington street between South 13th and 14th streets, and voted unanimously to approve the project. The motion was made by Councilman Tom Quinn and supported by Councilman Neven Reynolds.

A resolution with regard to transfer of city-owned property to the Harnischfeger corporation, and another resolution granting C. G. Bridges an additional 100 feet of property on US 2-41 past the viaduct, were made by the council. The city manager was authorized to withhold the Harnishfeger deed to the property until an easement for a railroad spur on the property had been secured.

The council tabled for further study a request to change the location of the official public railroad crossing between Sheridan road and the lake. Previously two requests had come in to have the crossing moved, and the council then acted in favor of the requests.

The city manager was authorized to advertise for bids on the city-owned lot on North 16th street near North 16th avenue.

An expenditure of $600 for fireworks for the Fourth of July was authorized by the council, and George Grenholm, city recreation director, reported to the council on plans of the recreation department for the observance of the Fourth of July.

The council appointed Councilman Reynolds to serve on the newly-formed county tourist council. It also heard the second reading of the civil service ordinance.

Standard Oil Co. Dealers Meeting Held In Escanaba

One hundred and twenty-five dealers of the Standard Oil Company in the Escanaba area met last night in Legion hall in a conference marked by the attendance of officials from the company's Green Bay office.

Here for the meeting were W. J. Duncan, Green Bay office manager; S. F. Armstrong, assistance manager; W. N. Davenport, sales manager; L. F. Lodl, assistance sales manager; W. B. Addis, advertising and public relations representatives; D. M. Alley, assistant office manager; L. C. Hartnig, and J. S. Schneider, special representatives.

At the conference Duncan said the oil supply problem has "been licked" and there will be enough gasoline, motor oil, tires, batteries, and accessories for automobiles this summer to meet the demands of the record travel and vacation season now predicted.

During the last three years Standard of Indiana spent $631,000,000 or more than twice its net earnings on new facilities to help ed the oil shortage.

In an orchard at the mission of San Juan Batista, Calif., pear trees more than 130 years old still are producing fruit.

Sure Blood Tests Now Reveal Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

Detroit (AP)—A blood test that can reveal cancer early anywhere in the body, was announced by Dr. Charles B. Huggins, University of Chicago surgeon.

The test is simple, cheap, and "reasonably sure," Dr. Huggins, president of the American Association for Cancer Research, declared.

It is a step toward solving one of the biggest problems in cancer—detecting the hidden disease early. Early treatment saves lives.

The test still is "somewhat rough," and not perfect, he said. It doesn't tell where the cancer is. Also, a positive result can mean cancer, or sickness from pneumonia, tuberculosis or meningitis. But other tests can show whether the patient has these ailments.

The test could best be made in cancer detection clinics or other laboratories. It would take time before the methods can be installed in detection clinics.

The test was developed in work that found new clues to understanding cancer. Dr. Huggins said these findings may be even more important than the new test.

The work was done by Dr. Huggins, Dr. Elwood Jensen and Gerald Miller, a medical student, at Chicago. It was aided by a grant from the American Cancer Society.

The test is made by heating a sample of diluted blood, after a chemical, iodoacetate, is added. Normal blood will clot after a certain amount of heating. Blood from a cancerous patient takes much longer to clot.

The clotting is due to a protein, albumin, in the blood. Egg white contains albumin. The albumin is what causes the clotting under heating. In cancer, the albumin in the blood is altered, Dr. Huggins explained.

Dr. Huggins said the test was based upon work by many researchers who for years have sought a blood test for cancer.

The test was positive for 85 persons known to have cancer, including one with a small early cancer of the ear, Dr. Huggins said. These 85 were among 300 persons tested. The tests were negative for all those free of cancer. They were negative for all the rest except those with lung tuberculosis and acute massive infections. Technicians making the test did not know which samples of blood came from cancer patients.

For cancer research, the significant finding is that cancer alters the albumin in the blood. The change is slight with early cancer, and becomes greater as the cancer grows. Learning how and why this change comes may help in understanding the disease.

MRS. R. P. NEIL DIES IN FLORIDA

Heart Attack Fatal To Laurium Resident

Mrs. R. P. Neil of Laurium, Mich., the former Adele Harris, died unexpectedly last night in St. Petersburg, Florida, where she had been spending the winter season. Mrs. Neil, who left for Florida each year in November and returned in April, was planning to leave for her home when she was stricken with a heart attack Tuesday.

She was born in Marquette, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Harris, of Harris, prominent Delta county pioneers, and was educated at Silver Lake Convent in Manitowoc, Wis.; and Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind. She was a teacher in the public schools in Laurium before her marriage to Dr. Neil, who died in 1923. She was a member of Sacred Heart church of Laurium.

Surviving are one son, Harris A. Neil of Caspian, and a daughter, Mrs. Wesley Peterson, the former Margaret Neil, of Chatham, N. J., who went to St. Petersburg by plane when advised of their mother's illness; five grandchildren; and one brother and three sisters, Michael Harris, Mrs. Lillian H. Reynolds and Miss Genevieve Harris, Escanaba; and Mrs. P. H. Macaulay, Menominee.

Arrangements for the services which will be held in Laurium are not complete.

Chicago, (AP)—Two airplanes owned by Tucker Corp were sold for $27,500 at an auction here this week.

A six passenger Beachcraft plane went to A. J. Leewarol (118 E. Sherwin Ave.) Fort Wayne, Ind., for $21,500.

Another Conestoga cargo plane was purchased by the Aircraft Components, Inc., of Benton Harbor, Mich., for $6,000.

The auction was arranged by trustees of the Tucker Automobile Corp. by order of Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe. The plane sales must get the judge's approval before becoming final. A hearing for the purpose will be held at a future date.

City Council Hears Detailed Reports On Fire, Trespass Case

A. V. Aronson, city manager presented last night to the city council a report on the unanswered chimney fire call, from a taxi cab driver, to the corner of First avenue north and 11th street.

Aronson explained that the captain had admitted his error, and told the council that in the future any such occurrence will cost a fireman his job. The council was satisfied with the report and expressed its faith in the avoidance of such an error in the future, by the fire department.

Councilman Reynolds suggested to the council that in cases where ridiculous fire calls are placed, such as calling to have firemen place storm windows, etc., that the person placing the call be charged for the cost of sending out the fire equipment. No motion was made on the proposal.

Frank Shepeck, Adolph Pohl and John Knauf appeared before the council and explained the circumstances surrounding the alleged trespass on Ovid Provo property by Shepeck. The council recommended that the persons concerned should enlist the aid of county law enforcement units in curbing abusive and illegal action of youngsters.

Council Approves Paving Project On South 19th Street

The Escanaba city council in meeting last night, approved for construction the street paving project on South 19th between Sixth and Ninth avenues. Property owners in that area recently submitted a petition for the black-top street. The city engineering department is now working on plans.

A. V. Aronson, city manager, explained to the council that giving a cost estimate is difficult for much of the 20 miles of un-paved street in the city will need a new foundation before surfacing can be applied.

Aronson recommended blacktopping and said it was both a cheap and substantial form of paving. In years past, Aronson said, the city has used as much as 40 tons of chloride to keep dust down on unpaved streets. A ton, he said, costs about $30.

A request for a ball diamond for the Wells teams, made by Don Pelletier, was referred to the recreation department.

RIVERTON MINE JOB SUSPENDS

Exploratory Work Ends At Iron River

Iron River — Exploratory operations started several weeks ago at the old Riverton mine, abandoned 42 years ago, have been suspended again. R. S. Archibald, of Negaunee, general manager of the North Range Mining company, announced yesterday.

Archibald declared that when the company began exploratory work several weeks ago it was hoped that the mine, discovered more than 50 years ago, would be re-opened, but "our plans did not materialize."

Riverton, regarded by many as Iron River's 'pioneer' mine, was discovered in 1879 by the late W. H. Selden. He hiked here from Quinnesec, where he learned of ore locations from Chicagoan lake Ojibway Indians.

Kimberly and Boyce company, which had headquarters at Sharron, Pa., first acquired a lease on the property in 1881. Later the mine was sold to Todd-Stambaugh company, of Youngstown-Ohio, who operated the property as the Iron River company.

First ore was shipped from the old Riverton in 1882, when the North Western railroad extended its line from Florence, Wis. Some 29,115 tons of ore were shipped the first season. It was an open pit, operation in the early days when men moved the ore in wheelbarrows. Machinery was installed in 1893 and 1894.

Operations were suspended there the first time in 1907.

Rules Of Navy Undergo Change

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—I trust I will not be giving aid and comfort to the enemy if I reveal some vital navy preparations for the maintenance of its forces, against the day of the great conflict. I tell you, I'm proud of my old Alma Mater. They're streamlining like mad.

Only the other day you saw where a WAVE was at sea on actual duty for the first time in history, indicating that future sea duty may be coeducational. But there are some juicy tidbits in The Reservist, a monthly poopsheet for the gallant alumni, that should be retailed. As somebody said once, damn the security! full speed ahead!

A notice, for instance, in this seagoing Harper's Bazaar, that the new trend in service ribbons is in three-eighths of an inch lengths, instead of in half-inch lengths as is the present custom for fruit-salad. This new look in decorations becomes mandatory after Oct. 1, 1951, and woe betide the luckless hero who ventures out with a half-inch ribbon after that date. Court-martial, suh. Disgrace. Rip off his buttons, and whip him through the fleet.

Then there is the thing about saluting. Scorning Mahan, navy has met the challenge of a new era in warfare. Sayeth the book:

"A hand salute by a person uncovered was prohibited under the old rules. Article 2110, par 3, now states that 'persons uncovered shall not salute, except when failure to do so would cause embarrassment or misunderstanding.'

"This means that an uncovered officer may return a salute, but not initiate it. For example, if an uncovered naval officer were saluted by army or air force personnel, he would return the salute to avoid embarrassing all concerned."

Unification, we are here.

FAIR CHANGES ARE PROPOSED

Board Hears Agriculture Agents At Meeting

A series of suggestions and recommendations for improving the facilities and exhibits at the Upper Peninsula State Fair were presented to the fair board Thursday evening by county agents and Michigan State College extension workers. The dinner meeting was held in the Marine room of the House of Ludington.

Members of the fair board thanked the agricultural workers for their suggestions and promised that all recommendations will be put into effect, to the limit of the fair board's financial ability.

It was proposed that the 4-H building be enlarged to accommodate a greater number of 4-H club members during fair week, and that adequate kitchen facilities be established. Installation of window blinds and lockers also was recommended.

The construction of curbing in the dairy barns for better sanitation and elimination of water connections on the outside of the barns were advocated by the dairy leaders. It was pointed out that the outside water connections cause considerable mud near the entrance to the barns. The elimination of startling noises near the dairy barns late at night, such as the firing of the cannon for the human cannon ball act, also was advocated.

Establishment of an educational exhibit to promote the artificial cattle breeding program was recommended by the county agents.

Consolidation of the agriculture and horticulture departments was proposed, together with a suggestion that available space for these exhibits be increased.

Russell Horwood, new extension service supervisor in the Upper Peninsula, pledged the continued cooperation of the county agents and the MSC extension service to the U. P. State Fair. He said the fair provided an excellent show window for Upper Peninsula agriculture and the means to promote better farm methods.

Science Gets Better Peek Inside Hearts

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Detroit, (AP)—New ways of seeing inside the heart have been announced to the American Physiological society.

They tell more accurately which part of the heart may be ailing, where blood clots may have formed, and where heartbeat skips have started.

The seeing is done with electrocardiograms, photographic records of the electrical impulses of the heart during the time of each beat. They have long been used, but it's been hard always to tell exactly what the wavy lines on the pictures meant.

The new findings clear up much of this mystery, and promise to help save lives in heart troubles. They were made by Drs. Louis H. Nahum and Hyman M. Chernoff of the Yale school of medicine.

The physiologists announced three major findings:

One, aided by X-ray mapping of the heart, is what each part of the heart contributes to the electrical impulse picture.

A second, that the lower sixth of the heart recovers faster than the upper part during a heart beat, and is warmer in temperature.

Third, an explanation of what happens to the various segments of the heart when the body doesn't get enough oxygen. The parts recover at different speeds, and this shows in the picture. Knowing this will help in diagnosing heart troubles.

Certain changes in the electrical picture occur after coronary thrombosis or other diseases start, it was said.

A new theory of the heart action helps physicians locate a blood clot, the origin of skipped beats, and other troubles, Dr. Nahum and Dr. Chernoff said.

The theory is that each electrical record is created by the interaction of opposite electrical forces from different zones of the heart. The better interpretations of the pictures were made possible by this theory and by findings in animals which were shown to apply to human beings.

Discovery of a heart stimulant in the osage orange or hedge apple was announced by Drs. R. A. Waud, C. W. Gowdey and J. S. Yoynes of the University of Western Ontario, London, Ont. They obtained it in pure form and found it chemically related to digitalis.

The substance is a steroid, and similar ones with some ability to simulate heart action were found in the california orange, soy beans, yeast, grain, and corn. The research is still experimental and not yet of any use in treating patients.

Building Of New Homes Tapers Off

Washington, (AP)—Home building activity hit a 23-year high mark in 1948, but it has begun to taper off in the first three months of 1949, the government says.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said complete reports of housing starts for 1948 showed a total of 931,300 — he greatest building boom since the all-time peak of 937,000 units in 1925.

Last month saw the beginning of a seasonal upturn in building with the start of 62,000 permaent non-farm dwellings. This was a gain of 16,000 units, or 35 per cent, over February figures. And it was 14,400, or 19 per cent, under the number started in March last year.

For the first quarter of 1949, non-farm dwellings construction reached a total of 158,000. This was 22,000, or 12 per cent, under the number started in the same three-month period last year.

The bureau reported that in the three full years since the end of World War II, a total of 2,450,800 non-farm dwellings have been put under construction.

The report said the average construction cost—excluding land costs and builders' profits—of all privately financed one - family houses rose 43 per cent between 1946 and 1948 to $7,875.

The bureau also announced that private non-farm house building rose moderately by $25,000,000 in March to hit a figure for the month of $400,000,000, thereby reversing a six-month downtrend.

Contract construction employment in March totalled 1,824,000. This was virtually unchanged from February, but was 19,000 above the number employed in March 1948.

The estimated value of all new construction through March was $1,200,000,000, a 9 per cent increase from February.

During the first three months of 1949, the bureau said, the federal government contributed three out of every $10 spent for new public construction.

Claims Criticism Of Probate Court Is Not Justified

Marquette, Mich. — Criticism aimed at the Marquette county probate court is unjustified "because the people are not being turned away and told to get an attorney" to handle estates, Probate Judge Carroll C. Rushton explained to the board of supervisors yesterday.

In fact, he declared, attorneys services will be offered without charge or for "such reasonable sum as the probate court may set" in all cases involving hardship. Widows with children, for instance, are given such gratuitous service when the small estate left them is being probated.

"I am not purposely chasing anybody out of my office to attorneys so they can get rich," he told the supervisors. "In the past, it had been the custom of many lawyers to handle big estates and send the small ones to the probate court.

"The probate code of the state of Michigan prohibits a probate judge or any employe in his office from preparing or assisting in the preparation of a will, contract or other document and then rule on it. I would become disqualified immediately and could not sit as a court in any hearing or trial in any such case."

STEEL PROCESS USES AIR JETS

Open Hearth Quality Product Reported

Pittsburgh, (SS)—Jets of air, directed across the surface of white-hot liquid pig iron, feature a new steel-making process which gives a product of open hearth quality, low in phosphorus and nitrogen, revealed here today by the Carnegie-Illinois and the Jones and Laughlin steel corporations which collaborated in its development.

Credit was also given by these two companies to C. E. Sims, of attelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, who assisted with research proposals. The metallurgical feasibility of the new process has been demonstrated by the results of preliminary tests using small-scale units. A full-size furnace in which operating problems can be studied experimentally is to be erected.

The vessel in which the process is carried out is a "turbohearth." The turbo-hearth was developed in an attempt to combine the advantages of the basic open hearth and acid Bessemer processes, the leading methods now followed by steelmakers in the United States. Turbo-hearth steel is made in a partly closed, side-blown vessel, lined with refractory material similar to that used in the Thomas basic Bessemer process.

The brick lining is magnesia rather than silica. As in the Bessemer process generally, heat is supplied by chemical action of the blown air with carbon and other elements of the charge. Chemical action is fast and direct, but subject to controled conditions which which reduce the nitrogen and phosphorus contents, making turbo-hearth steel comparable to open hearth steel, hence suitable for more general use than the customary Bessemer steel.

The high-silicon iron used in the Bessemer converter and the high - phosphorus iron in the Thomas operation are required largely because carbon, the predominating heat-producing element in the charge, is not completely utilized. Combustion of the carbon proceeds only to the carbon monoxide stage, so that two-thirds of the potential heat from the combustion of carbon is lost when the carbon monoxide burns to carbon dioxide in the air outside the vessel.

Conservation of this heat has been accomplished in some cases by the introduction of air at the side or on the surface of the converter charge in sufficient quantities to cause complete burning inside the vessel. This suggested the new development, one in which jets of air are directed on the surface of the liquid iron, providing extra heat for more complete combustion.

CITY BEAUTIFUL?

You Don't Know The Half Of It!
Fire and Police protection needs of these blighted areas cost nearly 10 times more than in other areas in the city.
Because properties are taxed according to valuation, and properties located in slums are assessed very low, they usually pay less than ½ of the taxes which are normally collected from average residential properties.

Only 169 Registered School Electors

THERE ARE 169 Escanaba residents of voting age presently registered as school electors, 169 out of a potential eligibility list in excess of 9,000.

The Parent-Teachers organization here, which is concerned primarily with school affairs, might well contemplate this situation and play a leading role in organizing a campaign to swell the voting registration lists for school elections.

The annual school election will be held early in June in Escanaba. Present plans call for three registration periods, successive Saturdays begining May 14. If an intensive campaign is organized to register the thousands of potential electors who are not now registered, volunteer registrars would probably be needed to accommodate the crowds. The PTA is the logical group to provide this assistance.

It should be stressed that the qualification rules for voting in a school election have been drastically revised in recent years. At one time only persons with children of school age or persons owning property assessed for school purposes were eligible. Now the qualifications for voting in a school election are exactly the same as the qualifications for voting in a general election. One must be 21 years of age, an American citizen with six months residence in Michigan and 20 days residence in the voting precinct. He needs not be a property owner or have children of school age.

The purpose of the more liberal qualifications is to expand public interest in the operation of the public schools. To attain this objective, it is essential that the voting registration lists be multiplied many times in Escanaba.

Persons who are registered at the city hall for voting in general city, county, state and national elections are not qualified to vote in the school election, unless they are registered on the school registration lists.

Robeson Slanders American Negroes

PAUL ROBESON, the American Negro singer, speaking at the World Peace Congress in Paris, a Communist-directed meeting, declared that American Negroes would never go to war against the Soviet Union.

Robeson told the delegates, "It is unthinkable that American Negroes would go to war on behalf of those who have oppressed us for generations against a country which in one generation has raised our people to the full dignity of mankind."

These are the words of a man who, though a Negro, has received many great honors from the American people for his athletic prowess, his dramatic ability and his singing. They are the words of a man who has acquired considerable wealth under the American capitalistic system which he now denounces.

It is incredible that a man of Robeson's education and the advantages that he has possessed in America should make such a comparison between this country and Soviet Russia, where oppression is conducted on such a gigantic scale.

Robeson's statement is a slander on the American Negroes, whose patriotism has been proved in every war in which this country has engaged since the emancipation of the Negro slaves. It is true that there are some Negro Communists and fellow travelers, like Paul Robeson, but the vast majority of the American Negroes are loyal, patriotic American citizens who would quickly rally to their country's defense in a war that might involve the United States with the Soviet Union.

Taft Gives Advice To GOP Colleagues

IT MAY BE that the Republican party came to a turning point the other morning at the closed-door conference of GOP senators in Washington. They were discussing their policy toward the administration's social legislation program when Senator Taft arose with some blunt words of advice for his more conservative colleagues.

He is said to have told them that they should support a sound social welfare program or risk political suicide. "If you deny the Republican party's interest in the welfare of the low income people of this nation," he reportedly said, "there soon won't be any Republican party."

That sort of advice to Republicans is not new. But here it wasn't so much what was said as who said it. Mr. Taft's opinion carries great weight among Republicans in congress. And it is in congress that the Republican record is really made. A group of stand-pat legislators consistently ignores the more liberal domestic planks of the GOP platforms. Unquestionably the standpatters have had a lot to do with keeping a Democrat in the White House for the last 16 years.

Some people seem to think that Mr. Taft gained his party's leadership in the senate by embodying all the reactionary tradition of the Old Guard. That is not correct. He has reached his present position because he is highly intelligent, honest, an authority on law and law-making, and a man with a great capacity for work. He is also unpredictable, extremely independent, and almost unshakable in his opinions. These last qualities are not ordinarily endearing to political followers. But Mr. Taft is respected for his integrity even by his colleagues who disagree with him.

The Ohio senator is well to the right on several issues. He is "liberal" on others. He is a strong advocate of federal aid for housing and education and of voluntary healt hinsurance. It was the decision of other senators to oppose these measures that called forth his warning to them.

Mr. Taft's support of the social welfare program will make him guilty of the crime of "me too" in some Republican eyes. But he differs with the administration on the route to a common goal. He says he wants to see these measures enacted in a way to give considerable state and local control, and get the desired results without hampering free enterprise or initiative.

It has been said that Mr. Taft has started a "liberal revolt" that has split the GOP wide open. But the party in congress is already split. A liberal revolt against the present leadership at the beginning of the present session failed dismally because it lacked leadership. Now the liberals have Senator Taft on their side, at least on certain issues. It ought to make quite a difference.

Play Ball!

THE MAJOR LEAGUE baseball season is in full swing once more and sports loving America is closely following the actions of the recruits and the old timers and wondering if Joe DiMaggio will be sidelined long with his injured heel.

Major league baseball is big business in this country, attracting milions of customers during the five and a half months season. Through the medium of the press and radio, other millions who never visit a big league ball park follow the day to day baseball developments as keenly, perhaps even more so, than those who are regular peanut - munching customers in the bleachers.

Baseball is a thoroughly American game, the national sport of this country. It provides the opportunity for relaxation that is essential in our complex society. Its appeal is to the young as well as the old, the rich and the poor. It helps to strengthen our democracy and to unify our people, which explains why baseball was permitted to continue even during the war years.

The complicated organization of professional baseball is presently being subjected to a legal attack upon the reserve clause, which is the foundation of organized baseball as we know it today. The reserve clause gives the ball club tremendous authority over its players, the right of possession even when a player's contract has run out.

Whether the reserve clause is uphold or not, baseball will not die because of a court decision. The roots of the game are too deeply imbedded in American tradition.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT SPIRAL
(Green Bay Press-Gazette)

Although most of the pillars of the republic are sound and we should be upon the verge of an era of steady employment and progress, the unemployment lists continue to grow, not wildly but with an unpleasant steadiness.

Look at American Radiator as a sample of numerous industries whose orders are petering out. Radiator let thousands of workers go because of reduced activity in the building industry. We need millions of homes. And new homes are good business for American Radiator. But homes cost a lot of money. And the taxation bill helps put radiators and therefore homes, out of the reach of many people.

Americans, in the rush of their every day life, are often out of touch with that ugly fellow known as stern reality. They are unaware that they pay high sales tax on radiators because it is a disguised sales tax. Their minds become numb at the fact that we are paying out about 22 billions for wars, past and future, including our preparation of Western Europe for the next conflict.

There are certain irreducible items in the cost of building, expenses that just have to be paid in the nature of things. But the taxation item is slurred over too swiftly and not given anywhere near its importance in throwing our great machinery of government out of gear. We suppose that if the mere three billions per annum that could be saved under the Hoover report were left in the pockets of American citizens, the thousands turned out by American Radiator and many other companies could be put back to work.

DECLARING TREASON IN ADVANCE
(Christian Science Monitor)

American opinion will accept President Truman's classification of two Communist party leaders as "traitors" for their oblique version of the pledge Reds around the world have been taking to support the Kremlin against their own countries, even in war. A new party line has been drawn, joint by joint, pledge by pledge, through Czechoslovakia, Austria, Italy, France, Britain and the United States all the way to Japan. In more or less bald terms Communist leaders have declared themselves loyal first of all not merely to Marxism but to Moscow.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

AGAIN NOSTALGIA

Let's bring the word nostalgia up to date.

On two occasions it has been explained here that nostalgia is primarily a medical and psychological term for a morbid form of mental derangement—a psychotic longing to return home, i. e., severe homesickness, from the Greek nostos, "a return home," plus algia, "pain."

I have reported the weird misuse of nostalgia and nostalgic by many writers: "Betty Grable does some nostalgic vaudeville hoofing." The dress has nostalgic little touches of lace at the neck." "He looked at her with nostalgia in his eyes." "This makes Wentz feel at home, which makes him nostalgically grateful (he is homesickly grateful for feeling at home!)"

Here are additional examples of the insane craze for using the words on every possible occasion. A California newspaper speaks of "nostalgic river barges." A radio emcee calls Eugene O'Neill's play, "Ah, Wilderness!" a "gay and nostalgic comedy."

A Broadway columnist describes a night club singer as "the roving nostalgia expert." The same writer tells of the audience breaking into "nostalgic titters" over an old recording of "Button Up Your Overcoat"!

What it all adds up to is simply this: Some prominent writer stumbled upon the word nostalgia. He greeted his discovery with glad yelps, and fell upon his typewriter with palpitating zeal. Other writers, not to be outgone, rushed into print with nostalgia and nostalgic, thus proving that they too knew a thing or two about sophisticated writing. And now the misuse has reached the state of an epidemic.

But no one has yet been able to figure out what these writers think the words mean.

Russia Seeking End Of Blockade

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Out of Berlin are coming ever broader hints that the Russians are looking for some way to lift the blockade of the U. S.-British-French sectors of the city. Naturally they would like to find a formula that would avoid public confession of failure.

Childs

American policy, in my opinion, far from resisting these efforts as sometimes seems to be the case, should do everything possible to help them along. The remarkable success of the Berlin airlift checkmated the Russian move to drive out the Western Allies. At the same time it was a tremendously effective demonstration of U. S. air power.

Today there are urgent reasons — both practical and ideological—why the airlift should be ended. That is another way of saying it is urgent to find a mutually satisfactory formula for lifting the blockade.

AIRLIFT TIRESOME JOB

On the practical side, the air force has had more than enough of what has long since become a burdensome routine assignment. They have proved everything they set out to prove, including the demonstration the other day when 12,940 tons were carried in 24 hours, that more could be transported by air than was ever moved by rail before the blockade.

In spite of the remarkable safety record set by the airlift, there have been losses. These losses loom particularly large in view of the weakness of this country in transport planes. The latter have been seriously neglected both on the commercial and the military side.

Most of the air force's transport planes are on the Berlin airlift. Not long ago the air force allocated $39,422,000 for 23 Boeing Stroto-freighters to replace some of the worn-out C-54s that have made a total of 116,277 flights since last June 26, hauling 1,057,725 tons.

Under intensive maintenance the C-54s have a useful life for the airlift of 8,400 hours. Maintenance is costly in an increasing ratio as the lift goes on.

COAL HAULING DANGEROUS

In hauling coal, for example, dust sifts into the fabric of the plane and abrasion becomes a problem. The cost is no small item. The total to March 25 was $137,904,200. But as the budgeteers figure it, considerably more than half of this would have been spent for salaries, upkeep and so on if there had been no Berlin airlift.

The famous Churchillian phrase about the airlift demonstrating that we could stand on our head while Russia sat in an easy chair applies more than ever today. Standing on one's head for an indefinite time induces paralysis or worse.

The case from the ideological point of view is, if anything, more urgent. It is becoming far too easy for Moscow to document its charge that the United States is engaged in a warmongering campaign with the ultimate aim of aggression against the Soviet Union.

The Soviet propagandists get all-too-much assistance from the kind of irresponsible raving that Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri gave forth with on the floor of the house last week. Cannon talked about plans for raining down atom bombs on every Russian city. All that Moscow had to do was to broadcast what he said without any additions at all. During coming weeks when the pact and the administration request for arms to implement it are being debated, we will hear a lot of that kind of talk. The emphasis will be on arms and security and how much the U. S. can afford to spend.

EUROPE FEARS WAR

If this is coupled with what appears to be U. S. rejection of Russian overtures to end the blockade, then this country will be outmaneuvered in the cold war. It will seem to the world as though U. S. policymakers had no alternative for a divided Germany and a divided world.

The profound fear in western Europe is of another war, another invasion, and another occupation. The influence of the U. S. thus far has rested on the belief that American policy is aimed at preventing a war and securing the peace, as in its broad aspects it is.

If that belief is undermined by what is done and said here, then Communism will have an opportunity it has not had thus far. The Communist bogey of Uncle Sam as an imperialist warmonger has frightened almost no one not already immersed in Communist doctrine. Let's not give the Russians the chance to prove that that bogey has any reality.

Something to Cackle About

Good Evening
By Clint Dunathan

FOUR AT PHIL'S—Phil Lippens drops us a note to report that a slight error appeared in this column recently. While musing over the extraordinary cow that gave birth to four calves on a Lippens farm at St. Nicholas, we wrote that the farm and the cow and the calves belonged to Adolph. They do not. They are owned by his brother, Phil.

Dunathan

"Here is more information about the quadruplet calves," writes Phil. "The first one born was so big and malformed its front legs and head had the shape of a pig."

With the assistance of a veterinarian the life of the valuable cow was saved, but the four calves—weighing a total of 240 pounds—were dead at birth. J. L. Heirman, county agricultural agent, says that if the calves had lived it would have been such a rarity as to attract national attention.

RED IRON ORE— Emerson Harvey stopped by the other day to ask if Mrs. Norm Stephenson had directed our attention to a piece of poesy titled "Red Iron Ore" appearing in the March issue of the Great Lakes News. A copy of the magazine being at hand we read "Red Iron Ore", all twelve stanzas, and found it is written by Eugene Herman and describes an eariler day of ore shipping on the Great Lakes, when ore handlers loaded and trimmed the red dust cargo by hand.

The poet takes his readers on a voyage from Chicago to Escanaba where: "Some sailors took shovels while others took spades, and some took wheelbarrows—each man to his trade; we looked like red devils, our fingers got sore, and we cursed Escanaba and the red iron ore."

Mentioned in the poem are the ships E. C. Roberts, Exile, Minch, and the tug Escanaba. The skipper of the Roberts is Capt. Harvey Shannon. The interest of Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson in the poem is understandable, for they are proprietors of a grocery that has supplied foodstuff for many years to lake boats docking in Escanaba.

EXCUSE ME—Young children have an innate faith in the everyday presence of God in their lives. A friend tells us that in his home they answered their young daughter's questions concerning God as simply and earnestly as they knew how, assuring her that God was always present and watchful for her welfare. She was taught to say prayers at the table, informal little prayers that placed them all in more intimate contact with the Divine Being.

This feeling of affinity was heightened one day when, at mealtime prayer, the little girl's prayer was interrupted by her sudden pause and a loud burp. Without losing her composure she raised her head and looked confidently at the kitchen ceiling.

"Excuse me, God," she said, and continued her prayer.

THE BIG HAND—In another family that includes two young daughters the mother was playing jacks with the children when one of them was ill and had to stay indoors. The game of jacks, if you recall your childhood, is the tossing up of a rubber ball, a swoop of the hand to pick up the little metal jacks, and the catching of the ball before it hits the floor. At one point in the game all of the jacks must be picked up in one motion. The mother could almost do this, but her daughter could not.

"You have to have a big hand to pick up all of them," the mother said consolingly to her daughter.

The little girl considered this for a moment.

"You know," she said, "I'll bet God could do it easy."

The mother agreed, while in her mind's eye there arose the unusual picture of God playing jacks on a Heavenly floor.

TROUBLED KOREA—Visiting in Escanaba recently S. J. "Sid" Shank, who spent several years in Korea as public works advisor to the U. S. military government, reported that political graft and thievery is so rampant among the Koreans that "we can't keep enough Americans there to prevent us being stolen blind."

He cited, as example, the theft of several hundred American jeeps. Nearly 400 of them were discovered in the possession of the Korean police.

Besides stealing jeeps, the Koreans steal American gasoline to run them with. No gasoline supply is safe, and Shank said that no matter who the Korean guard, the gasoline tank on his own automobile was always drained by morning.

Another instance of the widespread thievery was the disappearance of a whole shipolad of blue serge suiting material, the gift of the U. S. to the Koreans for uniforms. Shank said the material was stolen and when last heard of it had been smuggled to the Russian communists in the northern sector of Korea.

For this reason the U. S. has been able to accomplish comparatively little for the amount of money expended in Korea. Principal reason for the thefts is Korean inflation, Shank said. "Prices are so high the people cannot be honest and live."

Behind its iron curtain (the Soviet Union) is manufacturing fear. Out in the open, we, along with 51 other countries, are building peace. —U. S. Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup.

Roving Reporter
By Hal Boyle

New York, (AP)—The U. S. Senate controversy around the Malmedy massacre trials will produce one unwelcome outcome—it will create a new post-war German military hero.

He is Col. Joachim Peiper, a handsome young former adjutant to SS chief Heinrich Himmler.

This tough-minded storm trooper, now under sentence of death, is a symbol to many hero-loving Germans of the war they lost. And from the allied point of view, he is a dangerous man for this reason: He isn't the type the German people should ever come to regard as a martyr.

A Senate subcommittee is now investigating the Army's prosecution of Col. Peiper and 72 other German soldiers. They were accused of murdering 750 American prisoners and 150 Belgian civilians in the wintry Battle of the Bulge in 1944.

The American Army's quest for justice in this situation has been as confused as was the Battle of the Bulge itself. But unlike the battle, it has had no decisive impact for good on the German mind.

The original trial was held in the Nazi concentration camp at Dachau, hardly a scene renowned for justice.

Of the 73 defendants 43 were given death sentences. But since then there have been two official investigations of the trial. One was military, one was by a civilian commission. And in a final review of the matter Gen. Lucius D. Clay reduced the death sentences to six. Of the other 67 originally convicted, 20 are under life sentence, 34 serving shorter prison terms and 13 have been freed.

And now a Senate subcommittee is hearing testimony that confessions were obtained by physical cruelty and psychological fear induced by "mock trials."

Massacre Or Necessity?

Even among some professional American officers there is a reluctant admiration for the soldierly ability of Col. Peiper, the regimental commander whose men lined up and shot to death 80 disarmed Americans in a snowy field outside Malmedy.

Whether this was a "massacre" or a military necessity is of some doubt, too, to professional soldiers. For armored columns in a breakthrough attack — be they German, American, British or Russian—have no means to care for prisoners if the battle is bitter. The decision then must be made whether to kill the prisoners or to let them go, knowing the men then would be free to warn the enemy ahead.

Often in commando - type raids this same hard decision must be made. It is one of the lesser pleasantries of war.

The trial of the 73 Nazis, many of whom were only storm trooper thugs in uniform, represents an attempt, in part at least, to enforce ethical standards on the actions of men in desperate battle.

Whether the German mind can understand the American desire to deal out justice fairly and squarely in this missed-up situation is another matter. Certainly it is a sad result to have a man like Col. Peiper, as Nazi as Hitler and completely devoted to his anti-Christian principles, loom any larger to his countryman.

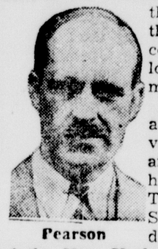

He is the kind of man they need to forget.

The first telescope is believed to have been constructed by Lippershey in Holland about 1600.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—The more you probe into the record of the late George Berry, president of the Pressman's Union, the smellier the mess becomes. Also, the more difficult becomes the job of union locals to clean up the mess.

Pearson

Five locals have now asked for a thorough investigation of Berry's will and the manner in which he robbed his own union. They are: San Francisco, Seattle, Washington, Indianapolis, and the chapel of the New York World-Telegram. However, the union's executives, who long let Berry get away with almost anything he wanted from the union's treasury, want to conduct the probe in their own way. They don't appear happy about outside interest.

However, for the sake of all other honest labor unions in the U. S. A., the case of the Pressman's Union appears to be one where President Green of the A. F. of L. should appoint a trusted A. F. of L. attorney to work with the justice department in protecting the rights of all union members.

Otherwise, it will be very difficult for union locals to act. For here is an illustration of what happened in the past when one local challenged the honesty of President Berry.

In 1920, the Chicago local of the union did challenge Berry, accusing him of using union funds to finance the Clinchfield, Tenn., Hydroelectric corporation, which Berry owned. The Chicago local sued, proved its case and got a $165,000 judgment against Berry, in the course of which U. S. District Judge A. M. J. Cochran said:

"It may be that in their wisdom, the union members may want Mr. Berry still to rule over them notwithstanding the findings made here. In the 1920 convention he said that the unions would fight like hell. That describes him. He has fought like hell in this case to keep the truth from being known."

BERRY WAS CZAR

The aftermath of this case, however, was most significant. Though the judge rendered a $165,000 judgment against Berry, it was never paid. Since he controlled the union, the judgment was forgiven.

Furthermore, the Chicago local which brought the suit was penalized. The union officers in charge were thrown out and a steward was appointed by Berry to run the union.

For years afterward, Berry ran the Chicago local through a steward. This he had the power to do under the union's by-laws.

Meanwhile, the U. S. treasury's files against Berry are almost unbelievable. The pressmen's head was given one year in jail for income-tax evasion, but since he threw himself on the mercy of the court, the government did not have to prove its case and none of the amazing details were ever published.

However, one of the unbelievable ways in which Berry cheated his own union was by buying a hunting lodge in Canada out of union funds for $7,500. Then he sold it back to the union for $24,000. In other words he sold to the union a hunting lodge which it already owned, and pocketed the price—$24,000.

Berry and other union executives were also allowed $9 a day for traveling expenses. However, they construed this to mean $9 a day whether they were traveling or not, and Berry drew that amount every day even while at home.

However, when he traveled, he had the hotel bill sent to the union so that he collected twice. This was in addition to the $9 a day.

Between the years 1926 and 1941 Berry reported an income of $74,000. However, the U. S. treasury, checking up on his revenue, arrived at the figure of $842,000 instead. And when they prosecuted Berry for income-tax evasion, it is interesting to note that Berry dipped into the union treasury to pay his defense attorney's fees—to the tune of $100,000.

In other words the union paid the expense of defending Berry for cheating the union.

Note—One reason for Berry's heavy expenses was that he was supporting two Mrs. Berrys — his own wife, and a Mrs. Alva Berry, who lived on one of his nearby farms in Tennessee.

NAVAJOS PLEAD

Weatherbeaten Navajo and Hopi Indians sat in the thick-carpeted, mahogany-decorated room of the house public lands committee the other day and told a story of governmental neglect.

Shepherded by forthright Norman Littell, their counsel, the Navajos told how the most modernized country in the world has given them not one high school on their entire reservation.

With 24,000 children on a reservation the size of West Virginia, the U. S. government has given the Navaojs schools for only 6,000.

Sam Ahkeah, chairman of the Navajo tribal council, told the story eloquently.

"It is difficult to sit here in this beautiful building and discuss the deplorable conditions on our reservations," he said. "In some cases our people must travel 400 miles over almost impassable roads to reach the nearest hospital.

"We need roads, hospitals, and—most important—schools," he begged. "Most of our children must grow up without schooling."

Eighty per cent of the Navajos are illiterate and 65 per cent cannot speak English.

Remarked Rep. John Murdock, Arizona Democrat: "If the Navajos could live on scenery, they'd be rich indeed."

Note—If the Navajos could collect royalties they claim from the Vanadium corporation they would be wealthy. They own some of the best uranium deposits in the world, but through a technicality have had difficulty collecting royalties.

The elected five council members will appoint a city manager, engineer and clerk and the city manager will appoint department heads. The first meeting of the council will probably be held Monday morning at the school.

The students will officiate in city offices on Tuesday, April 26.

Campaign speeches were given yesterday at a general assembly.

Must Register To Vote In City School Election

Of an estimated 9,000 persons who could register as school electors in the city of Escanaba, only 169 are now registered and are eligible to vote in the coming school election to be held June 13.

In an effort to provide an opportunity for eligible citizens to register, and to encourage registration, the Escanaba board of education in recent meeting announced its intention to publicize the need for registering of school electors and the dates for registration.

At the election June 13 two board of education trustees will be elected for terms of four years each, beginning July 1, 1949, and ending June 30, 1953. The present terms of Trustees A. D. LaBranche and William Warmington expire June 30.

Any person desiring to become a candidate is required to file a petition with Charles E. Lewis, secretary of the board of education, the petition to contain at least 50 names of qualified registered school electors of the district. These petitions must be filed not less than 15 days nor more than 30 days prior to the date of the election.

Every citizen of the United States of the age of 21 or over, who has been a resident of the state for 6 months and of the school district of Escanaba for 20 days prior to the date of the election, is eligible to register and to vote in the election of June 13.

They must be registered before they may vote or sign nominating petitions of candidates. The school board has established the following dates and times for registration:

Saturday, May 14, between the hours of 3 and 8 p. m., at the junior high school; Saturday, May 21; and Saturday, May 28.

Because of the small number of registered school electors, indicating lack of public interest in school elections, the vote has been unusually light. To encourage larger registration the school board has indicated its intention to publicize the registration dates in newspaper advertisements and by radio.

At the June 13 election the polling places will be open from 8 a. m., to 8 p. m.

For the school election registered school electors in the First, Second, Third and Eighth precincts will vote in First school district polling place at city hall; for the Second School district, comprising city precincts four, five and six, voting will be at the Jefferson school; and for the Third School district, comprising city precinct No. 7, voting will be at the North Escanaba fire station on Sheridan road.

Two years ago the old school voters registration lists were wiped out and invalidated because they contained the names of many persons who had passed away or were no longer residents of the school district. A reregistration was ordered and within two years only 169 persons registered to vote in school elections.

Students who have deficiencies or visual difficulties are told about them and parents are informed. Miss Gertrude Sheahan, school nurse, is in charge of follow-up care for students who do not pass the test.

WRITER TELLS OF PLANE TRIP

Airlines Publicist Will Fly To Scandinavia

By PEG BOLGER
Manager, News Bureau
Wisconsin Central Airlines

New York City,—It's possible to plan a trip to Oslo, Stockholm, Helsinki, Copenhagen, Paris, Amsterdam, London and Glasgow, as I am doing, without stopping off in New York any longer than it takes to make a plane connection. It's more fun to stop in New York.

New York is at its best in the spring and the excuse I'm using to stay here for a few days is labeled boldly, Preparation for the Journey. "There are many, many things to do," I say to anyone who asks me. And besides, the trees in Central Park are green and Fifth Avenue is a garden of Easter finery.

The first New York TWA nonstop Constellation flight out of Chicago leaves at 8 a. m. It's the best way I know of to get to New York in 2 hours and 50 minutes. To make it out of Madison means taking Wisconsin Central's Flight 2 which leaves at an outrageous hour—5:20 a. m.—but does away with the necessity of a night in Chicago, shuttling out to the Chicago airport, and is, I found out, a very popular, pleasant flight.

In addition to making perfect trunk line connections, Wisconsin Central's early bird hop offers, so help me, the most beautiful sunrise-streaked sky I have ever seen. And, like the other passengers, I soon blinked the sleep out of my eyes to gape at the rose tinted clouds and the misty gold look of everything from 3000 feet. "It's a sight," said pilot Captain Alex Banks, "offered daily on Flight 2. No extra charge."

In Chicago, and excited because the first lap of my Europe jaunt was completed, I kissed the Wisconsin Central pilots goodby, (may their wives forgive me . . . it was a fellow-employee type kiss) was whisked to TWA's office, checked in for their 8 a. m., New York flight, and crossed my fingers while they weighed my new Hart's luggage. Passengers are allowed 66 pounds on an international flight and TWA graciously allowed me the international limit inasmuch as I would connect with Scandinavian Airlines System in New York. I weighed in under the line at 65 pounds.

The TWA Connie growled in on time with a load of sun-tanned California passengers. Breakfast was served immediately after boarding—Canadian bacon at 18,000 feet and 300 miles an hour! During breakfast my traveling companion discovered, as they always do, (airline passengers are so friendly) that we had much in common. We were both passengers, going to New York, and on the same airplane. I was going to Europe and he had been there. We both had sisters, mothers and fathers. There was more, but in addition to being fast, TWA's Connies are comfortable and, after brief apologies to my companionable seat-mate, I was fast asleep.

In the middle of a dream in which I was picking tulips in Helsinki, with a Dane from Amsterdam and a Norwegian from Stockholm, the stewardess touched my shoulder. I said, "Skol" and sat up in time to watch the wing flaps come down and the LaGuardia runway come up to meet us. It was 11:50 a. m: New York time. Air transportation, I'd firmly declare, even if I were never paid to say so, is wonderful.

(Editor's Note—Miss Bolger, a resident of Madison, Wis., will describe her overseas trip in successive isues of the Press.)

If Alaska becomes the 49th state in the union, it will also be the largest.

ANOTHER TEST—Another of the series of tests in the Massachusetts vision test being given to all grade school students in Escanaba is given here to Ray Olson by Mrs. Berglund, formerly Miss Louise Grimm, R. N. of the state health department office here. Thus far fifth and sixth grade students in all schools have been tested, and work is now in progress at the Webster school. Testing will continue until all grade students from the second through the sixth grade have had eye tests.

OBSERVE 60TH ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hinze of 322 North 16th street are observing their 60th wedding anniversary today. They were married in 1889 in Seymour, Wis., and came here in that year to make their home. The family includes five children, Richard of Chicago; Leonard of Chicago; Wellington of Escanaba; Mrs. J. E. Muck of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. J. E. West of Chicago.

Community Busy With Final Details Of State Convention

Mrs. Lawrence Erickson, local general chairman of the 32nd annual convention of the state Parent-Teacher association which will open in Escanaba Tuesday, April 26 for a three-day session, and her committees, are completing last minute details to make this convention one of the most successful and interesting ever to be held here.

For months, plans for this convention have been in the making, and are now near completion. Hundreds of Escanaba women have had few leisure minutes in the past few weeks taking care of all the minute details that are necessary for the success of what will be the largest convention ever to be held in this city.

There will be about 1500 delegates attending this convention, and the problem of housing and feeding that number of people has been a major task. The response of the local citizenry in opening their homes to these visitors is a credit to our community. Most of these state conventions have been held in much larger towns.

That the work of the local PTA Council has been productive is evidenced in the increasing interest in attending the convention. There is a possibility that the registration may go over original estimates.

Convention Banquet

The Wednesday night banquet, highlight of the meeting, will be filled to capacity, and committee leaders are requesting that all banquet tickets which holders do not plan to use, be returned to registration headquarters. In order to accommodate all delegates to the convention, the banquet will be held simultaneously at St. Joseph's hall, the House of Ludington, the Sherman Hotel and the American Legion hall.

Business and educational meetings will take up most of the time of the three-day session, but there will be time for social activities, too. Breakfast and luncheon meetings will be for the most part social gatherings, where delegates from every corner of the state will have an opportunity to become better acquainted with each other.

Escanaba junior and senior high schools will be dismissed Wednesday so that the students may participate in the programs and the buildings be available for meeting places. Grade schools will remain open for purposes of observation.

The music of the convention will be furnished for the most part by the schools, not only in Escanaba, but from all over the county. The school children are sharing honors with their parents and teachers to make this convention an outstanding event. The student participation will include a choral poem by the elementary school children. Musical organizations such as the high school a cappella choir, the string ensemble, the high school matinee orchestra, the grade school chorus, the high school orchestra and band, the Gladstone girls' ensemble and instrumentalists, Harris high school musical groups and the Rapid River Rural Agricultural school Girls' Glee Club will furnish music at the various meetings, luncheons and dinners.

C of C Clearing House

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce has been working overtime doing clerical and routine tasks to smooth the way for the local PTA committees. They have been the clearing house in registering and assigning rooms for the three day meeting. They are furnishing the mimeograph machine and the clerk to operate it to insure publication of the daily bulletin to be distributed to all delegates each morning during the convention.

There are very few people in Escanaba who haven't contributed much of their time and effort to make this convention a success. All the committees and workers still have hours and hours of hard work to have everything in perfect readiness for Tuesday morning.

Monday all work on exhibits in the junior high gym will be completed and last minute details of registration in the American Legion hall will be in readiness to open at 8 a. m. Tuesday morning.

Thursday noon the largest convention ever to be held here will become history, and the long process of preparing for it and carrying it to a successful completion will be at an end. After long months of disrupted family routines, hundreds of willing workers will resume normal living.

Today's Recipes

Animal Tales For Children's Hour

There will be a rosy glow over the story hour on Saturday morning at 10 in the children's room of Carnegie public library. The glow will come from "Rosy Nose" and "Rosie the Rhino," which Miss Betty M. Harris, children's librarian, will tell at that time. Boys and girls who like animal stories are invited to attend the story hour.

RADIO STATION PLANS OUTLINED

WDBC Manager Confers With C-C Directors

At a recent meeting of the officers and directors of the Manistique Chamber of Commerce, George D. Lindenthal, manager of radio station WDBC, Escanaba, owned and operated by the Delta Broadcasting Company, appeared before the board with information regarding the company's proposed station for Manistique.

The value of the station to residents of Manistique and the surrounding area was explained and discussed, as well as the commercial aspects and the planned operations of the station in connection with the Escanaba station.

During the course of the discussion all the important questions concerning operation of the station and the plans of the company in Manistique were presented.

Much of the discussion was centered around the community value of the station and the cooperation that would be given to the Manistique and Schoolcraft county schools and churches, civic, fraternal and business organizations, various other community groups such as the non-profit organizations, the Red Cross county chapter, American Legion, Cancer and Tuberculosis groups and all organizations that help promote the commercial, civic, fraternal, educational or religious life of the area.

It was pointed out to the directors that this station is being established in Manistique without it costing the community or any individual any money, interested persons in Manistique are not being asked to purchase stock in the company to establish and finance the station, businessmen are not being asked to underwrite the station by signing advertising in advance of the time the station goes on the air in Manistique. In fact, Mr. Lindenthal stressed the fact, that already inquiries for commercial time have been received and the interested parties notified that only after the station is on the air will commercial time contracts be accepted.

When questioned about the value of the station to Manistique by members of the board, Lindenthal answered, "Our company feels this is one of the finest things for Manistique that has happened in the past twenty-five years, or probably will happen in the next twenty-five."

Assurance was also given the directors and officers of the chamber that the Delta Broadcasting Company was in no way connected with any other radio venture in Manistique and that it definitely is not opposed to any present or future plans that any group outside or inside of Manistique might have for the establishment of other radio facilities for the community other than the fulltime operation proposed and applied for by the Delta Broadcasting Company.

Rumors that the Delta Broadcasting Company was attempting to interferee with any other radio plans for the community, are untrue and unfounded, Lindenthal stated, and apparently have been spread among businessmen and community leaders for the purpose of "keeping this station out of Manistique." The company has already committed itself to establish this station for the people of Manistique and it intends to carry out this program as rapidly as possible. When the station is established it will operate on the published rate card based on the value of its facilities for commercial service to Manistique and Schoolcraft county businessmen.

It was also pointed out to the officers and directors that Manistique was probably one of the smallest communities in the country to have a separate and full time radio station of its own. The business dangers involved in attempting to establish and maintain this station were also presented. However, with intimate knowledge of the business life of the community and after business surveys were made and a program of long range planning for the station worked out by company officials, who are Mr. John P. Norton, pres., Mr. Frank J. Lindenthal, sec'y-treas. and W. J. Duchaine, vice pres., it was decided that through the cooperation of the people of Manistique and the interest shown by businessmen from time to time during the past two years, they would file their application for radio service for Manistique.

Washington attorneys for the company have notified station officials that their Manistique application is now being processed by the commission and favorable approval is expected shortly.

Some equipment for the new station has already been received and all the other ordered and will be available as soon as permission is received from the Federal Communications Commission authorizing the installation.

PAPER MILL DISPUTE ENDS

Work Will Be Resumed Monday Morning

The difficulty between the Paper Makers local and the Manistique Pulp & Paper Company, has been ironed out, R. G. Hentschell superintendent announces.

An agreement was reached at a meeting of the management and heads of the local last Wednesday evening and as a result the members of the union, who refused to return to work last Monday, have agreed to resume operations. Work will be resumed Monday morning.

No announcement was made concerning the grievance or its manner of settlement.

The Pulp, Sulphite and Mill Workers local, had nothing to do with the dispute, but its members have been idle because of the shutdown that resulted from the work stoppage.

FIRE TRUCK TO BE DELIVERED

New Unit Has 85-Foot Extension Ladder

Gladstone's new fire truck, ordered last fall from the FWD company at Clintonville, Wis., is now ready for delivery and is expected here this weekend or the early part of next week, it is announced by City Manager H. J. Henrikson.

The new unit will replace a pumper of Boyer make which has been in use here for over 20 years.

It is a Four Wheel Drive with pumper and extension ladder.

Three local firemen, Carl Johnson Willard LaFond and Carl Haglund visited Clintonville this week, saw a demonstration of the work it will do and were instructed in its use.

The ladder with which the truck is fitted has a total heighth of 85 feet when extended. The first 50 feet is raised hydraulically, the remaining 35 feet by hand. It can be raised to its limit in 38 seconds.

Lettering of the unit was underway when the local delegation was in Clintonville.

BIG CITY LAGS IN FIVE ARTS

Toledo And Los Angeles Lead In Writing

By George Tucker

New York, (AP)—New York, which has long boasted that it is the nation's center for creative writing, is apparently being outstripped by Toledo, O. and Los Angeles, Calif.

An analysis of 23,000 entries thus far in the National Five Arts competition shows also that twice as many women as men are submitting entries. The competition is being sponsored by the National Five Arts Award, Inc., a nonprofit organization, to stimulate creative writing. Prizes totaling $100,000 in cash and fellowships are to be awarded for the best novel, play short story, movie synopsis, popular song, radio script and short short story.

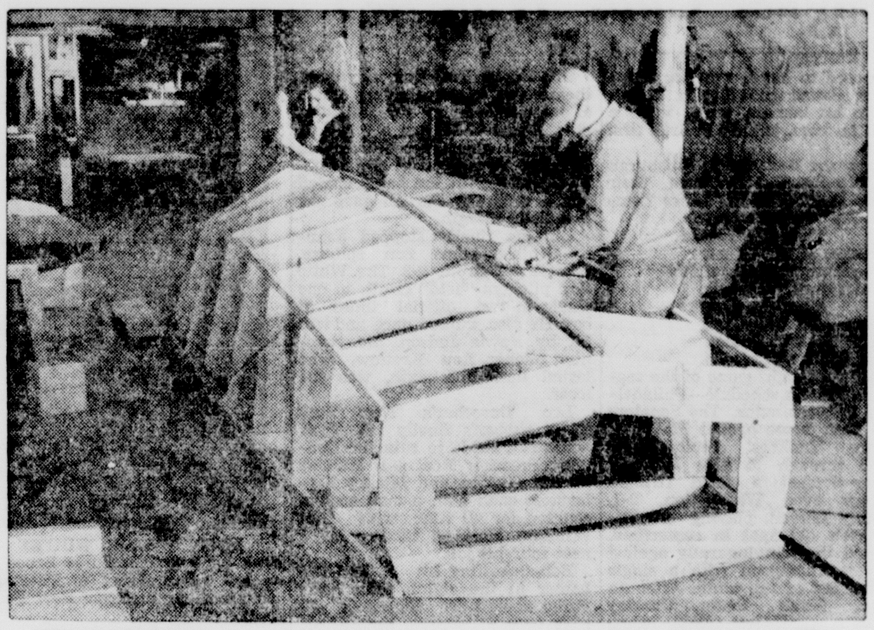

Officials are somewhat puzzled about certain aspects of the sudden increase in composition. For one thing, there have been very few songs written by women, yet the two sexes are running neck and neck in this division.

Movie writing has also been considered largely a male field, but the girls have submitted the bulk of scenarios. Men are in the lead only in the full length play and in radio scripts.

An analysis of entries also shows that the South and Midwest lead the country in popular song entries, while New York and New England are tops in plays and radio scripts.

Other leading sources of entries besides Toledo and Los Angeles are in order Miami, Newport News, Paterson, N. J.; Chattanooga, Boston and Burlington, Vt. The high position of Los Angeles and Burlington is attributed to the nearness of the Universities of California and Vermont.

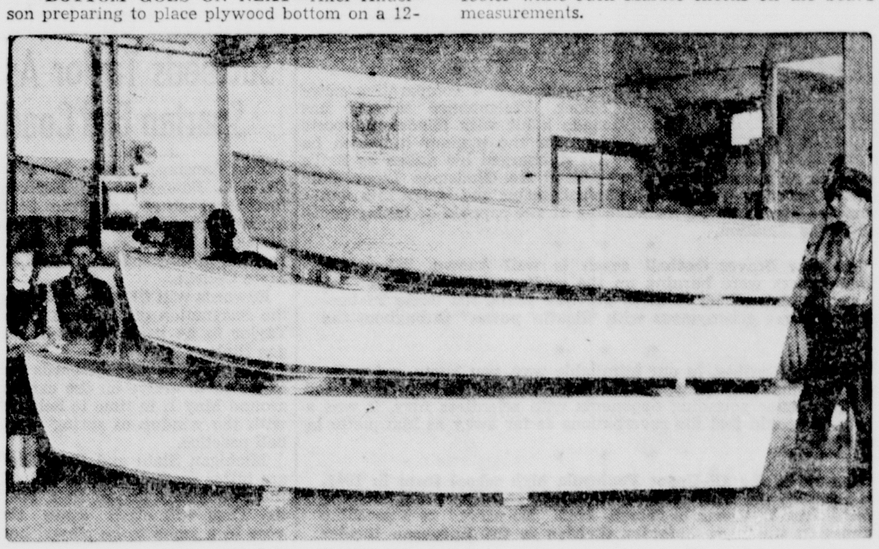

According to the board of directors, the contest is self-supporting. A two-dollar fee is charged with each manuscript submitted. A Brooklyn attorney has underwritten the contest if it fails to break even. The competition closes July 31.

WILL BE BIG ONE—Assembly frame for a 24-foot power cruiser for which a special order has been placed with the Gladstone Manufacturing company. Lillian Larson and Wallace Wolf are working on the frame.

BOTTOM GOES ON NEXT—Axel Anderson preparing to place plywood bottom on a 12-footer while Jack Marble checks on the boat's measurements.

Plywood Boat Line Keeps Company Busy

The Gladstone Manufacturing Company is busily engaged in turning out boats these days, it is learned from Al Vietzke, head of the firm.

While efforts are expended mainly in producing 12, 14 and 16 foot plywood crafts, the company produces other types, including inboards. At present work is being done on a 24 foot power cruiser.

Boats are sturdy and well designed. Marine plywood of the best grade, 3-8ths inch thick is used on oak frame and transom.

The latest model and one which is expected to prove highly popular is the 12 footer with a beam of 56 inches. This beam makes the boat very stable even in rough water.

A portion of the boats are being shipped to one of the nation's leading mail order houses.

The British took the island of Cyprus from Turkey in 1878 as part of a plan for the introduction of reforms in Asia Minor.

NOTED GLEE CLUB TO SING HERE—The men's glee club of Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio, will present a concert here on the afternoon of April 28 at Gladstone high school under the sponsorship of the Girls' Ensemble. The concert is one of the many projects planned by the ensemble to raise funds to finance their appearance in the Chicagoland Music Festival in August.

High School To Make Occupational Survey

A survey of retail and office occupations in Gladstone is to be conducted in the near future by the Business Education department of Gladstone high school.

The data procured is expected to provide a means of determining occupational training needs in the school and community. Number and kind of actual positions available should be revealed and idea gained as to the adequacy of the courses of instruction now offered in the Business Education department of the local high school.

Questionnaires are to be sent over 100 local industries and businesses. Full cooperation is being sought in having them properly filled and returned.

Included in the information wanted are the number of full-time and part-time stenographers, bookkeepers, general clerks and sales clerks employed; sources used in obtaining new employes; number of office employes hired in the past year; minimum education requirements; most serious weakness found in young office employes; most common weakness; what qualifications other than occupational skills and competency are considered important.

Office practice students will assist in conducting the canvass and tabulating results. The students also will be used in followup work in an attempt to secure 100 percent return on the questionnaries.

WINNING WAYS — Colleges throughout the country show keen interest in Fletcher Gilders. The 19-year-old Detroit high school senior took all five events in a Young Men's Christian Association gymnastic competition, won a Metropolitan League diving championship two years in a row and set a national interscholastic indoor pole vaulting record of 13 feet 3½ inches.

Hutchinson Faces Bearden; Tigers Bow To Sox, 5-2

Cleveland, April 22 (AP)—The pressure was off outfielder Johnny Groth as the Detroit Tigers opened a three game series against the Indians here today.

Groth, after powering three home runs in his first two days as the Tigers regular centerfielder, had to settle for a single in two official times at bat yesterday.

He scored a run and was brilliant on defense as the Tigers dropped a 5-2 decision to the Chicago White Sox in the windup of their three game esries at Briggs Stadium.

Some 16,936 fans cheered practically every move Groth made and hoped against hope that the Tigers' newest batting hero would slam another four-bagger.

Keep Eye On Groth

But the White Sox took extra special efforts to make certain Groth got nothing good to hit at.

This is how he fared in his four trips to the plate:

On his first try, the count was two balls and no strikes when an inside pitch from White Sox starter Howard Judson clipped him on the right thigh and sent him to first base.

The next time, it was the same count when Groth singled sharply to right.

On his third try, it was 3-2 when Groth drove a long fly to center, but White Sox centerfielder Herb Adams was playing extra deep and nabbed it.

Groth had a 3-1 count when he walked on his final try.

The young Tiger outfielder had a busy day defensively as he caught six flies and started off a double play by rifling in a throw that caught a runner off second.

Throw Hit Appling

Groth was charged with his first error but it resulted from a bad break for the Tigers rather than from any misplay by Groth.

It came in the fourth inning as the White Sox were getting their first two runs off Tiger starter Lou Kretlow, who was the losing pitcher.

Herb Adams, White Sox center fielder, opened the inning with one of the three singles he got during the afternoon. Dave Philley fouled out and Luke Appling was walked, sending Adams to second.

Gus Zernial singled to centerfield, scoring Adams. Groth gunned a perfect throw to third, but it bounced off Appling as he raced into the bag. Appling, seeing the ball scoot towards the stands, headed for home and tallied.

That gave the White Sox a two run lead and a good start on their way to their first victory of the young American League campaign.

Howard Judson was the winning pitcher although he weakened and was lifted in the last of the seventh with two out.

Bill Evans, formerly with Muskegon of the Central League, finished up the inning, but was lifted in a hurry when he walked Groth and George Vico, first two Detroit batters in the eighth. Matt Surkont did a noble job of relief to save the White Sox the decision.

Freddie Hutchinson (13-11) was named to pitch the series opener against the Indians' Gene Bearden (20-7) today.

U-M Hopes for Win In Big 9 Baseball

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 22 (AP)—Michigan, twice beaten, will try to make up for a bad start today in the first of a two-game series with the visiting Indiana Hoosiers.

Michigan Coach Ray Fisher probably will start his southpaw sophomore, Dick Smith, against the Indiana team that comes up to its first Big Nine game with a record of six straight wins.

Ernie Andres, Hoosier coach, is expected to start Bill Tosheff, Gary, Ind., six-foot righthander.

Fisher, whose Wolverines dropped their first two Conference starts to Purdue, has made but one change in the Michigan lineup. Ralph Morrison, 1948 letterman, has been substituted for Centerfielder Vic Fryling whose hitting has been poor.

Three Wings Named On NHL All-Star 6

Montreal, April 22 (AP)—Three members of the National Hockey league's pennant winning Detroit Red Wings were named today to the circuit's 1948-49 all-star team.

Detroit's sturdy defenseman, Jack Stewart and Bill Quackenbush, and Sid Abel, center and captain, were selected for the first team by the league's six coaches. Maurice Richard of Montreal won the right wing berth and Roy Conacher of Chicago the left wing slot. Bill Durnan of Montreal gained the goal-tending position.

Each member of the first team will receive $1,000 from the league.

STINGY—Bob Porterfield easily could be the Yankees' stopper this season. In successive exhibition games, the right-hander shut out the Reds with one hit in nine innings and the Forth Worth Cats with none in eight. That gave the young Virginian a string of 19 scoreless frames. He did not yield a hit in 15 rounds, and only two in 19.

Bark River Defeats Powers, 17-16, In D-E Baseball Opener

Bark River-Harris, April 22—Bark River-Harris opened the U. P. D-E High School Baseball league with a resounding 17-16 triumph over Powers yesterday.

Although there were several extra-base knocks, Bradley Savage came through with the only home run for the victors. Thirty-five hits in all were collected.

It was announced that a U. P. D-E Baseball league meeting would be held in Rapid River at 8 Monday evening.

AA Batters Produce 51 Runs and 62 Hits

By the Associated Press

The slogan of American Association batters last night was "throw something up there we can take a cut at."

And they did.

Three AA games, in which 17 pitchers saw mound duty and gave up 51 runs and 61 hits, produced the following results:

St. Paul 12, Toledo 11; Milwaukee 13, Columbus 1, and Indianapolis 9 Minneapolis 5. Rain stopped Kansas City at Louisville.

Indianapolis took over the league lead with three victories and no defeats.

DAVEY-LINSCOTT TONIGHT

Lansing, April 22 (AP)—Detroit lefthander Chuck Davey, four times an NCAA champion, will fight in the welterweight class to top an amateur boxing card here tonight. Pitted against the flashy, fast-stepping collegiate boxing king will be Gene Linscott, Pontiac schoolboy Golden Gloves sensation. Only 17, Linscott was NAAU lightweight champion last year and went to the finals of the NAAU welterweight scrap in this year's tournament.

Hey, What's This? Cincinnati Leading League; Cubs Win, 4-3

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Attention, Happy Chandler; Somebody is tampering with the big league standings.

Cincinnati, doomed by the experts to finish in the cellar, is the only unbeaten team in the Nati nal league.

The poor, old beat-up New York Yankees, supposedly hobbled by the loss of Joe DiMaggio and others, are out front in the American league.

Eddie Dyer's St. Louis Cardinals still haven't won a game, and the powerful Boston Red Sox had to resort to bases on balls to break into the victory column.

Maybe things will straighten out when the weather gets hot but right now, Happy, they're in a terrible mess.

Bucky Walters, starting his first full year as Cincinnati manager, followed the old custom of pitching lefthanders against the Cardinals. As usual, it worked.

Following up Kenny Raffensberger's opening day performance, Walters called on another lefty, John Vander Meer, yesterday. The 33-year-old veteran responded with a five-hit shutout, 5-0. Vandy, a 17-game winner last year, retired the last 11 batters in order to top Howie Pollet.

The power the Reds are not supposed to have, won for them. Hank Sauer and Jimmy Bloodworth hit homers, each with a man on base, to ruin Pollet's first start.

Now the Reds go to Pittsburgh to help the Pirates open their home season today. Other "second day" openers are:

National League

Boston at New York
Brooklyn at Philadelphia
Chicago at St. Louis.

American League

Detroit at Cleveland
New York at Boston
St. Louis at Chicago.

The first night game of the season is also on schedule—Philadelphia at Washington. The Senators had their home opener Monday.)

The Yankees' replacements came through to give Manager Casey Stengel a third straight victory over Washington, 2-1. Johnny Lindell, playing in DiMaggio's old spot in centerfield, started the winning rally against Forrest Thompson with a single in the last of the ninth. After an error, Hank Bauer, Charley Keller's sub in left field, came through with a game-ending double.

Cleveland warmed up for its home opener by thumping St. Louis, 8-2, with the help of homers by Larry Doby and Joe Gordon.

The Boston Red Sox untracked themselves to salvage the finale of their series with the Philadelphia A's, 4-0. It was a scoreless battle between Phil Marchildon and Mel Parnell until the ninth. Two walks with the bases loaded and a single by Parnell gave the Sox their margin.

Chicago finally stopped Johnny Groth's home run splurge, trimming Detroit, 5-2. The White Sox pitchers "held" Groth to one single in two official times at bat. He also walked once and was hit by Howie Judson, the winning pitcher. Lou Kretlow, who lasted until the sixth, was the loser.

Leo Durocher's New York Giant sluggers finally hit their home run stride to ruin the Dodgers' Preacher Roe, 4-1. Homers by Sid Gordon and Mickey Livingston, eahh with a man on, accounted for all runs with Clint (Floppy) Hartung turning in a neat four-hit job.

Bob Scheffing hit a two-run homer in the eighth with Andy Pafko aboard for Chicago's 4-3 edge over Pittsburgh. Emil Kush, who came on after Walt Dubiel left for a pinch hitter, was the winner over Bob Muncrief, making his first start as a Pirate after his purchase from Cleveland.

The Boston Braves and Phillies were not scheduled.

Scheffing Is Chicago Hero

St. Louis, April 22 (AP)—Catcher Bob Scheffing is not what you might call a holler guy, but the brawny receiver is the big noise of the Chicago Cubs at the moment.

Scheffing's two-run homer which gave the Cubs a 4-3 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Chicago yesterday was his third extra-base blow in the three-game old Bruin campaign.

On Wednesday, big Bob blasted a two-run double which was the pivotal clout in Chicago's 4-0 win over the Pirates. And on opening day Tuesday, Scheffing banged a ninth-inning opening two-bagger which almost spoiled old Rip Sewell's 1-0 triumph.

Scheffing, batting fifth in the Cub lineup, has four hits—including an opening day single—in 12 trips to the plate for a .333 average. Bearing in mind Scheffing's .300 average for the entire 1948 campaign, Manager Charley Grimm has himself quite a mitt and mask guy.

It's been a long hard pull getting into regular major league harness for Scheffing. In 1938, Bob was playing with Mobile and broke his shoulder in a collision at home plate. Doctors and the St. Louis Cardinals, who owned him, gave up on his chances to make the big-time grade.

In 1938, Scheffing managed the Yashington, Pa., club in the Penn State Association, playing quite a few games as a first sacker.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

For some time it has been expected that Eldon R. Keil, now completing his 25th year as athletic mentor at Gladstone high school, would relinquish his football coaching duties to Don Pfotenhauer, but it wasn't made official until yesterday.

* * *

Keil intimated as much last football season when the likeable Pfotenhauer accepted the position of assistant Gladstone coach after his graduation from the University of Wisconsin.

* * *

The venerable sage of Upper Peninsula coaches certainly must have heaved an audible sigh of relief when his Braves achieved the 100th football victory under Keil at Gladstone high last fall. It sort of set the stage for Cappy's retirement from the trials of a football campaign year after year.

* * *

It is quite something to have a mark like that on record, a distinct achievement, and none will disagree with Keil's decision to turn over the reins to his younger assistant. Pfotenhauer is eager to make his mark, as Keil has made his before him.

* * *

Although a comparative newcomer, Pfotenhauer already has made a hit with Gladstone sports fans for the manner in which he has discharged his duties as Keil's assistant in all sports. In his short talk at the Gladstone Lions club dinner in honor of Gladstone basketball teams and Keil's 25th anniversary, he displayed the mannerisms of one capable of taking command of the situation.

* * *

The new Braves football coach is well known. When the Pfotenhauers were burning up the gridiron as members of the Escanaba high school team in pre-war years, the name Pfotenhauer became synonymous with "floatin' power" throughout the U. P.

* * *

We sports scribes, in our inimitable way, you know, got quite a bang out of that play on words. But with fellows like Don, Merle and Bob Pfotenhauer pounding opponents with relentless fury, it was a natural. We could feel the reverbations as far away as Marquette in those days.

* * *

Don made the all-Upper Peninsula high school team in 1941. He attended the University of Wisconsin and then went into the World War II fracas in March, 1943. He served as a machine gunner in the 106th Infantry division in the European theater and was a German prisoner of war at Bad Orb and Zeigenheim for three months.

* * *

After the war, he finished at Wisconsin and then came to Gladstone. Incidentally, there is no tougher job in the Army than that of machine gunner, so you can put it in your hat that one Don Pfotenhauer did his bit in the big show.

* * *

Although Keil's basketball teams have achieved more than 200 victories, he will continue as basketball coach. The word is out that Cappy is shooting for more.

* * *

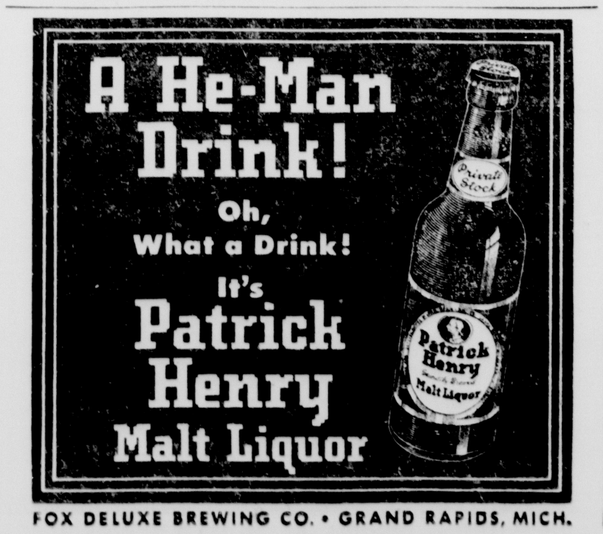

Superintendent Wallace Cameron's official announcement set up the Gladstone coaching staffs as follows:

Basketball—Keil, head coach; Pfotenhauer, reserve coach; Wallace Strom, junior high school coach.
Football—Pfotenhauer, head coach; Strom, assistant.
Track—Keil, Pfotenhauer and Strom will share duties.
Golf—Keil.

In addition, Keil has been named the school's athletic director.

* * *

It's a fine setup that should achieve excellent results.

Mack Changes His Mind; A's Will Win Pennant!

Philadelphia, April 22 (AP)—Connie Mack says he's sure now his Philadelphia Athletics are going to win the American league pennant this season—they're too confident to lose.

Mack prior to the start of spring training picked the Cleveland Indians to repeat their 1948 victory.

The 83-year-old A's owner-manager retracted that prediction today. He's sure his A's will win—for the first time since 1931.

"This spring,' Connie says, "I predicted Cleveland would win the pennant. But after talking to my players and realizing how confident they were that they would win I have changed my mind.

"The players convinced me that they will win."

Mack thinks the Philadelphia Phillies have a good chance to cop the National league flag.

"They have a fine club," Mack says.

But back to the American league—the Indians and the Boston Red Sox.

Don't they rate?

No, says Connie.

"The Red Sox have power, but no pitching and while I think they will be in the runing I do not think they can win."

In their opening series with Boston the A's took two out of three.

Cleveland's pennant chances?

"If the Indians lose Bob Feller it certainly is going to make things a lot easier and simpler for us," Mack said.

And the New York Yankees?

Connie said the Yanks are a maybe and an if. That is, maybe they can win if Joe DiMaggio plays.

"With DiMaggio the Yanks can be contenders," Mack says, "without him they are just second division."

Mack insists his A's have the best defensive infield in baseball with Ferris Fain on first, Pete Suder at second, Eddie Joost at short and Hank Majeski at third.

Pitching? "My staff is one of the finest."

The outfield is fair, Mack admits, "but if Sam Chapman continues to play as he did Wednesday (four hits) I would have no worries."

Edwards, Penn State, Succeeds Taylor As Spartan End Coach

East Lansing, April 22 (AP)—Earle L. Edwards, an assistant football coach at rival Penn State for more than 12 years, today was named to take over the vacant position of end coach at Michigan State College.

Edwards will fill the gap left by the resignation of LeVerne (Kip) Taylor to be head coach at Oregon State.

MSC sources said Edwards was expected to arrive on the campus around May 1, in time to help out with the windup of spring football practice.

Michigan State and Penn State are bitter football rivals. Last fall the two teams played to a 14-14 tie. They will clash again this year in a game to be played here Oct. 22.

Gas Tax Revenue Drops In Michigan

Lansing, (AP)—Gasoline tax collections in Michigan have slumped for the first time in 44 months, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, jr., reported.

Alger said the March collections amounted to $2,959,867, 3.43 per cent below the $3,041,978 received in the same month a year ago.

"Since there are about 130,00 more cars on the road in Michigan this year than a year ago," Alger said, "I can only assume that the reduced mileage results from lowered buying power."

However, for the first three months of the year collections were $330,000 more than in the same period a year ago, reaching $10,187,637.

Heiress To Throne Of Britain, Princess Elizabeth Now 23

By GLENN WILLIAMS

London, (AP)—Princess Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to Britain's throne became 23 years old April 21.

A fun-loving young woman who likes to dance and sparkle in her pretty clothes, proud of her infant son who may succeed her on the throne, the princess is keenly aware of what her position demands of her. The people praise her willingness to meet those responsibilities. They idolize her five-month-old prince-son as "good old Charlie."

Two years ago when she was 21, Elizabeth broadcast a pledge to the empire:

"My whole life, whether it be long or short, shall be devoted to your service and our great imperial family, to which we all belong."

In another speech she told them: "The strength of our country—or of any great country—lies in the home and the family." She is meeting that responsibility, too.

Since she and Prince Philip were married 17 months ago they have lived in apartments in Buckingham Palace. Finishing touches are being put upon a home of their own at Clarence House, adjoining old St. James Palace.

Studiously, the spotlight of public approval is shared with her baby. Scarcely a formal photograph appears, now, that does not include Prince Charles.

Her tasks leave little time for the recreation and average housewife would enjoy. But at a recent charity ball she danced every number, mostly in her husband's arms.

A silica substance, which acts as a nearly perfect diffuser of light, gives promise of making the present inside-frosted electric incandescent bulb obsolete. It is said to give results superior to the diffusion from regular inside-frosted lamps without diminishing lighting efficiency.

High Cost Of Living Edges Up In March

Washington, April 22 (AP)—The government reported today that living costs edged up a bit in March, snapping a five-month decline.

The labor department's consumer's price index for mid-March rose half a point over mid-February. It was 169.5 per cent of the average for the 1935-39 pre-war period.

The rise was attributed chiefly to an advance in food prices.

Retail food prices went up one per cent in March over February to end a steady drop since last July. Most important factors were above seasonal advances for beef, fresh pork and lamb.

Prices of fruits and vegetables, as well as rents, also contributed to the rise in the index.

The index is based on a survey of prices in 56 cities.

In March, retail prices for moderate income families were three-tenths of one per cent above February. They were 1.6 per cent above March, 1948 and 72 per cent above the pre-war level of August, 1939.

Retail prices, however, are about three per cent below the post-war peak of August and September last year.

The new index had no immediate effect on the wages of 273,000 General Motors workers whose pay is tied to the rise and fall in the living cost figures. But its trend may be felt later.

The GM wages are revised every three months and are due to be recomputed again next month. In January, a drop in the index pared their wages two cents an hour.

The February index at 169, indicated another two cent hourly pay reduction for then.

However, the current index would slice that cut in half. Thus, if the index is the same next month, the workers would lose a penny in hourly wages instead of two cents indicated by the February index.

Another GM contract provision, however, provides for a productivity wage increase of three cents an hour each spring. So if the index requires a penny wage cut, as seems likely now, the workers would wind up with a net increase of two cents hourly.

High Officials Flee In Nanking

tween Nanking and Shanghai.

From Kiangyin it is easy to cut the roads to Shanghai. But an even greater threat was boiling up about 80 miles to the southwest.

There the Communists had shoved at least 15,000 veteran troops across the south bank under heavy artillery fire.

Latest reports from defense ministry sources said the bridgehead was being expanded. Government troops were unable to counterattack because of artillery fire.

Traffic Cut Off

These sources said, however, that government troops had started a counterattack against another bridgehead planted by 3,000 Reds on the south bank 60 miles east of Nanking. In this area Red troops were so close to the highway and railway that travel between Nanking and Shanghai already was unsafe. Both routes may be cut at any time.

Another new crossing was made near Nanking, about 150 miles southwest of Nanking, by 5,000 Communists, the ministry source said.

Government defenders, stretched thin over 600 miles of river front, seemed powerless to check the Communist tide.

There was no official confirmation that the leaders of nationalist China had gone off to see Chiang. But Chinese press dispatches insisted that Chiang was waiting in Hangchow for them. Purpose of the conferences was not given.

Government offices all over Nanking were packing to leave, mostly for Canton in south China. Transport planes shuttled from Nanking to both Shanghai and Canton carrying out officials.

(The Hong Kong newspaper Sing Tao Jih Po said in a dispatch from Canton that a state of emergency had been declared there.)

The Daily News said Communist troops were attacking three miles north of Pukow, the railhead across the Yangtze from Nanking. Firing could be heard plainly in the capital.

The U. S. embassy took note indirectly of the peril on the Yangtze, where Communist artillerymen fired on four British warships, damaging all four and killing 42 or more crewmen.

In its warning to Americans it noted that the river now was blockaded and that a U. S. naval vessel recently anchored here had moved down to Shanghai. In view of the blockade, a statement said, the return of a naval vessel to help bring out Americans is unlikely.

The embassy also noted that the marine guard here had been reduced to a handful on protective duty in the embassy. They will not be available to help in the removal of American Nationals.

"There is no assurance," the embassy said, "that Nanking will be spared either civil disturbance or military assault, and the embassy is compelled to warn everyone that those remaining must be prepared to stay through any emergency.

Living Cost Drop Brings Pay Cut At Kellogg Co. Plant

Battle Creek, Mich., April 22 (AP)—A five-cent hourly pay cut for 2,500 Kellogg Co. workers was foreshadowed today by a quarterly drop in the cost of living.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported in Chicago that the consumers price index for the Detroit area for the period ending March 15 was down to 170.8. This compared with a 172.8 figure on Dec. 15.

According to the cost-of-living wage contract signed with the American Federation of Grain Processors (AF), the Kellogg workers will thus accept the five-cent wage reduction effective May 1.

It will be the first time since the contract was signed in 1941 that the BLS has forced a pay cut. During the eight-year span, the base pay of the employes has risen about 70 per cent.

The contract called for changes in the wage scale in accordance with the rise or fall of the price index for the Detroit area.

Iron Mountain Girl Is Winner Of Elks Scholarship Award

Kalamazoo, Mich., (AP) — Two Flint Northern high school seniors, winners of the Michigan Elks association annual scholarship contest, are being considered for awards of $12,000 from the Elks National Foundation trustees.

Robert Booth Tarkington and Dorothy Helen Young won top state awards of $300 each in a competition based on scholarship, citizenship, personality, leadership, perserverance, patroitism and general worthiness.

Winners of the $200 second place award were Wallace Pearson of Lansing Sexton and Donna Jean McFall of White Pigeon. Charles Averill, also of Lansing Sexton, and Marjorie L. Battista of Iron Mountain won $150 each, and fourth prizes of $100 went to Donald Duane Majeske of Bay City Central and Betty I. Genney of Hillsdale.

HORSES' TAILS NOW HISTORY

Interesting Americana Found In Wyoming

Tensleep, Wyo., (AP) — Mike Bennett had no idea of making history back in the fall of 1883. All Mike wanted to make at that time was a horsehair check-rein for a wild bronc. He was short of material and, being a resourceful man, he chopped the tails off five Indian ponies.

It developed that removal of the tails was a serious breach of conduct, as the only time an Indian bobs his pony's tail is when he's mourning the death of someone. There was no death to mourn. The Indians decided the only way to bring the thing to a balanced conclusion, was to kill Mike.

This lively bit of Americana stems from the Tensleep Creek sector near here. It is one of scores of readable incidents included in the U. S. Forest Service's history of the Bighorn National Forest. In the past three decades the service has compiled millions of words on the backgrounds of its 19 forest preserves in the Rocky Mountain area.

Rangers annually gather additional information from the old settlers in the various districts. The data includes notes on old Indian trails, camps, hunting grounds, fights, explorers, military posts and expeditions against the Indians, old boundaries, and miscellaneous items such as the one about Mike Bernett.

John Spencer, regional forester, says the histories are of value in establishing dates of land-ownership, settling boundary disputes, and studying the cyclic damage of pests like the bark beetle. Spencer says the histories of the forests also provide the only available histories of dozens of communities in the areas involved.

P. S.—The Indians weren't able to catch Mike.

He was killed several years later, however, by a posse of ranchers. The ranchers accused him of stealing a horse. Not just the tail. A whole horse.

Illini Pace Big 9 With a 3-0 Record

Chicago, April 22 (AP)— Six games on the road faced pace setting Illinois today as Coach Wallie Roettger's baseballers opened a two-game Big Nine set with Iowa at Iowa City. The Illini have a 3-0 record plus a tie game with Minnesota which will not count in the standings.

Before returning to Illinois field for a final Big Nine series with Ohio State, May 20-21, the Illini—co-champions with Michigan last year—must face Michigan and Indiana at Ann Arbor and Bloomington after the Iowa series.

Eight Cockpits Open In Indianapolis Race

Indianapolis, April 22 (AP)—Seven driver nominations today left only eight cockpits open in 66 cars entered in the 33rd annual 500-mile auto race May 30.

Thirty-three of the drivers nominated have driven in at least one previous Memorial Day race.

No. 1 will be missing from the track this year. Ted Horn of Paterson, N. J., who would have carried it on his car as the 1948 American Automobile Association champion, was killed last fall at Duquoin, Ill. Myron Fohr of Milwaukee, runner-up to Horn in AAA points, will carry No. 2.

Boiler Blast Rocks Los Angeles Suburb; Gas Main On Fire

Inglewood, Calif., April 22 (AP)—An explosion rocked this suburban Los Angeles city early today when a boiler blew up at the Basin Oil company's storage tank farm.

There were no known casualties.

A series of smaller blasts followed, believed to be power transformers. The blasts fired a gas main, shooting huge flames skyward. But firemen cut off the raw gas line into the plant to halt the blaze.

The force of the blast hurtled the huge industrial-type boiler off the five-acre plant to a nearby street, an estimated 100 yards.

The blast also knocked down power lines in the area, sheared off the top of a parked automobile and tumbled nearby fences.

The same plant was the scene of a disastrous blaze in September, 1948. Two women and a child were killed when 16 crude oil storage tanks exploded, sending flashes of flaming oil into a nearby trailer camp.

Body of Kalamazoo Flier Is Recovered Near Benton Harbor

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 22 (AP)—The body of Jack William Simpson, 22, of Kalamazoo, whose light plane disappeared last Feb. 8 over Lake Michigan, was found late yesterday on the beach four miles north of Benton Harbor.

The body of James Lachman, companion of Simpson in the ill-fated flight, was washed up on the lake shore April 1.

Two youngsters walking along the beach late yesterday came on Simpson's body. It was identified by William Pugh, Chief Berrien county deputy sheriff through Navy discharge papers in a wallet.

A Coast Guard boat from St. Joseph removed the body to a receiving vault in a St. Joseph cemetery. It will be taken to Kalamazoo today.

Recently a St. Joseph fisherman discovered what is believed to be the wreckage of the plane about a mile offshore at a point 12 miles north of Benton Harbor. It crashed into the lake while the youths were on a flight from Kalamazoo to Hammond, Ind.

Minnesota Veterans Get Bonus, To Cost State 90 Millions

St. Paul, Minn., April 22 (AP)—Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl said he would sign tomorrow a bill giving Minnesota veterans of World War II a bonus that will cost the state an estimated $90,000,000.

Initiated in the State House of Representatives and enacted by the Senate last night, the measure provides a $15 monthly payment for overseas service with a maximum of $400, and $10 for domestic service with a $270 limit for the period between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945.

Men in the armed forces five years prior to Pearl Harbor are excluded and close relatives of those who died in service will receive the full $400 under the bill.

Actual bonuses are expected to total $82,000,000, with administration costing $2,000,000 and bond interest $6,000,000.

The department of Veterans Affairs said it would be ready to receive applications probably by the end of July with first checks expected to be mailed some time in November. Claimants must have resided in Minnesota for six months prior to Pearl Harbor.

No Starving Deer Found This Year

Lansing, (AP)—Starvation losses of deer were practically nonexistent in Michigan this year, the state conservation department reported.

Game spotters said the deer now are scattered over their entire summer range in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula. The worst areas have been thoroughly searched and starvation losses were negligible.

No dead deer were uncovered in two generally critical areas, the McKinley Bridge and Wright Creek localities in Oscoda county and the Hanson Game Refuge near Grayling.

During the beaver season, trappers spotted a few dead deer along streams but most of the deaths stemmed from causes other than starvation.

Preliminary searches of the Upper Peninsula indicate light losses although a few dead deer have been found in widely scattered localities.

KING RANCH NEEDS WATER

Ships 20,000 Cattle To Market Annually

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

Kingsville, Tex., (AP)—Declining livestock prices aren't worrying the fabulous King Ranch nearly so much as its waning water supply.

The biggest beef - producing ranch in the world is a 976,000-acre domain which ships 20,000 cattle to market annually. The ranch doesn't buy high-priced cattle on speculation—it breeds and raises its own. It buys little high-priced feed—King Ranch cattle eat grass. So the ranch isn't caught in any jam between buyer and seller market.

But when it comes to water it has cause for concern. The South Texas water table has dropped alarmingly and you can't depend on rain.

"A cow drinks 10 gallons of water per day," said Dr. James K. Northway, famed King Ranch veterinarian, "and it takes plenty of water to grow the grass they eat." The ranch has built earthen diversionary dams in three streams to flood thousands of acres of ranchland in periods of heavy rain. The flooded soil is treated chemically to boost its fertility and planted in clovers and such grasses as giant bermuda, yellow bluestem and rhodes.

"When I came here in 1916," said Northway, "many artesian wells were flowing. Now, in some wells around Kingsville, water is 117 feet below the surface. That's an idea of how the water table has dropped."

It has been estimated that the 75 artesian wells and 225 windmills of the King Ranch supply enough water daily for a city of 23,000 persons. The 80,000 head of cattle and the 2,800 quarter horses on the ranch quench their thirsts at 880 brimming troughs. Rainfall on the ranch averages about 31 inches a year. "But it may go for six months without raining," said Northway.

The ranch, a big business with a businesslike attitude toward ranching, has spent many decades of planning for the future. After years of experiment it evolved its own breed of Santa Gertrudis cattle approximately three-eighths Brahma and five-eights Shorthorn), very large cattle with a very fine beef conformation. Santo Gertrudis cattle take the southwest heat well; they are hardier and grow heavier on grass feeding than any other breed.

The ranch also developed its own strain of quarter-horses for its expert Vaqueros (cowboys) to ride and experimented many years to perfect strains of grasses for its fine livestock.

Commenting on the livestock price decline, Dr. Northway said: "We are on a production basis. We breed, raise and market cattle. The fellows caught by the decline are the ones who buy high-priced cattle to fatten and buy high-priced feed to fatten them on. A fat cow is just as perishable as a ripe peach. When she's ready for market, she's ready—and the man who paid too much for the cow and her feed loses money when the livestock market drops."

And, too, the King Ranch has varied its interests. It does no farming but it has 400 oil wells.

Young Progressives Sitdown in Lansing Gets No Sympathy

Lansing, April 22 (AP)—A brief "sitdown" in the governor's office and a Capitol lawn picket line yesterday by Young Progressives in behalf of Governor Williams' program got little sympathy from the governor.

Williams said "I do not think such demonstrations convince anybody to advance the cause of liberal legislation. If these demonstrators are genuinely interested in better legislation their views would be more effectively expressed by less spectacular means."

He said that such a demonstration in Soviet Russian would have "landed some of the demonstrations in Siberia or before a firing squad".

The group, mostly college students from Wayne university and the University of Michigan, called themselves the "Youths' Lobby."

Declaring they had been denied an audience with Williams, about 100 of the young people sat and lay down in the governor's office, saying they would stay until Williams saw them.

Returning from lunch Williams talked to them but expressed no sympathy with their suggestions he summon a mass march on Lansing to support legislation forbidding discrimination in employment and education and public housing and higher unemployment compensation.

Leaders of the group told Williams the people would support him if he gave them the chance. The governor replied that "they didn't seem to at the spring election."

FORMER RUSS COUNT SPEAKS

Explains Stalin's Grip On Satellites

Adherence to the principles of communism is but a minor factor in the allegiance Joseph Stalin has been able to maintain in the nations now behind the iron curtain. Ties of language, race, religion, and a historical background which presents Russia as their ally against their common enemy the Turk, has made the people of many of these countries responsive to influences from Moscow, Prof. Andrei Lobanov-Rostovski, a former Russian nobleman, now a professor of history at the University of Michigan, told an audience here Wednesday evening.

In explaining this situation—one which he found hard for Americans to understand—the speaker delved into the history of these countries and explained how most of these countries are tied together with ties that have little to do with political considerations.

He divided these different countries into three classifications, according to their loyalties and sympathies with Russia.

The western frontiers of these countries, said the speaker, are dividing lines beyond which Communism is not likely to pass. Western Europe is so utterly different from Eastern Europe that the ideology of one area is not likely to penetrate the other.

His parting warning was "Communism is like the flu, if you are run down, you catch it. If you are in good condition, you throw it off."

Asked if he approved of the Marshall plan, he said he did, with limitations. Yes, for Western Europe. No for Eastern Europe.

The big danger to world peace, he said, is not in Europe, but in the Far East.

The speaker, when questioned concerning illiteracy in Russia, said that the Soviet claim of 100 per cent literacy was way too high and that the generally accepted notion that the Russian peasant of the old school was abysmally ignorant, was very much in error. Having been an officer in the Russian army, he rated the peasant class about 35 per cent cent literate.

City Going After Causes Of Radio Growls and Howls

Screeches, growls, buzzes and all those other racous noises that at times make radio reception in downtown Manistique almost impossible, have been investigated by a crew of city employes and they have found that certain neon signs and fluorescent lights are the chief offenders. The business places where these offending appliances are located have promised to cooperate in abating the nuisance.

The Manistique Light & Power company recently employed Len Walters and his crew to trim all trees where limbs touched wiring. This materially aided in getting clear reception and also improved the appearance of the areas treated because the work was done by nursery men who did more than merely slash away a few offending limbs.
